The Presidency in the Era of 24-Hour News Jeffrey E. Cohen, 2010-11-16 The Presidency in the Era of 24 Hour News examines how changes in the news media since the golden age of television when three major networks held a near monopoly on the news people saw in the United States have altered the way presidents communicate with the public and garner popular support How did Bill Clinton manage to maintain high approval ratings during the Monica Lewinsky scandal Why has the Iraq war mired George Bush in the lowest approval ratings of his presidency Jeffrey Cohen reveals how the decline of government regulation and the growth of Internet and cable news outlets have made news organizations more competitive resulting in decreased coverage of the president in the traditional news media and an increasingly negative tone in the coverage that does occur He traces the dwindling of public trust in the news and shows how people pay less attention to it than they once did Cohen argues that the news media's influence over public opinion has decreased considerably as a result and so has the president's ability to influence the public through the news media This has prompted a sea change in presidential leadership style Engaging the public less to mobilize broad support presidents increasingly cultivate special interest groups that often already back the White House's agenda This book carries far reaching implications for the future of presidential governance and American democracy in the era of new media

Conflicting Narratives of Crime and Punishment Martina Althoff, Bernd

Dollinger, Holger Schmidt, 2020-07-18 This book illustrates the importance of conflicting narratives in understanding and dealing with crime based on a variety of cutting edge research Offenders tell stories about crime and punishment as do policemen judges and defence lawyers but so do politicians and the media Each tells them very differently and only some stories are believed while others are rejected as implausible leading to conflict This book explores how these conflicts are carried out and what relationships exist between often unquestioned master narratives and sometimes loud sometimes silent counter narratives These are questions of central importance for criminology which have thus far received little attention This edited collection is international and interdisciplinary in scope providing empirical insights from such diverse contexts

as social media newspapers comics police interrogations social and criminal justice settings and museum exhibitions By including contributions from a wide spectrum of academic disciplines and using different methodological approaches it is of particular interest to students and researchers in criminology and sociology as well as to scholars of socio legal studies
