

IELTS Band 8 Sample Essay

Exam Question: With the increase in computer use, many people feel that schools do not need to put the emphasis that they used to on basic handwriting skills or mental mathematics skills.

To what extent do you agree or disagree with this?

Englishan

In recent years, computer use around the world has increased drastically. As a result technological equipment is used increasingly in schools around the world. Many people question therefore whether schools should put much emphasis on teaching students basic handwriting skills and mental mathematics skills.

The use of technological equipment in lessons has increased since the onset of the digital age. Nearly all professions around the world involve computer use and even the simplest tasks are carried out via electronic equipment. Hence, it is important for students to learn how to use technology correctly for their future careers. Electronic devices also offer various learning advantages, as notes and assignments can be completed much faster and more neatly using these tools.

Nonetheless, the practical skills such as using and holding a pen correctly are likewise vital for future careers. For that reason, students have to be taught at early ages how to carry out simple tasks using basic skills, such as writing. It is also essential that a student develops neat handwriting, as in the case of a technological problem the student will have to write by hand. Furthermore, final exams are typically written by hand and thus the student must develop the basic skill of holding a pen and writing with it. Mathematics skills are no different. People will not always have a device with them to carry out calculations and the ability to do arithmetic in the head is a vital skill for operating in today's world.

In conclusion, I personally believe that schools should keep a balance between using practical skills and using electronic equipment to carry out certain tasks by having student submit assignments created electronically, yet also by having them complete assignments by hand in class and without computers or calculators. This balance is important, as if the focus lies only on one of the two aspects, the student will face problems later on in life.

IELTS The Ultimate Unofficial Guide , Translanguaging in L2 Writing Feedback

H. Kübra Er, Emel Küçükali ,2024-05-07 Translanguaging and its pedagogical implications have become an intriguing topic Cenoz Garc a and Wei 2014 it is evident that TP in educational settings challenge the monolingual viewpoint that separates languages and prioritizes the Target Language TL while ignoring other languages spoken in the classroom In addition to these translanguaging is an educational strategy that empowers learners to actively participate in the language learning process Taking these into consideration the swift advancement of the notion of translanguaging in the field of education can be attributed primarily to the recognition that translanguaging naturally takes place among multilingual individuals

Canagarajah 2011 Garc a Wei 2014 Hence the current research is hoped to contribute to the exploration of the effect of translanguaging assisted feedback TAF vs English focused feedback EFF on students writing performance in an English as a Foreign Language context In addition this book might be used as a guide for teachers who want to give more constructive and effective feedback to their students writing papers by including translanguaging feedback to foster cognitive emotional and social benefits
