Identity and Coherence in Christology Paul S. Scott, 2023-09-29 This book explores a number of closely related logical and metaphysical questions relating to the identity of Jesus Christ In particular it considers What does Jesus Christ name and How may Jesus Christ be the subject of both divine and human attributes given their apparent incompatibility The author draws on analytic and scholastic influences and integrates them into a rehabilitation of the neglected habitus theory of the hypostatic union The theory maintains a real identity between Christ and the Word and emphasises the instrumental or possessory dimension of Christ's relationship to his human nature This approach allows for an account of the hypostatic union that is true to the indispensable articles of classical Christology and which satisfies the demands of logical coherence Yet at no point is the mystery of the Incarnational event reduced to the strictures of creaturely comprehension The book will be of particular interest to scholars of Christology analytic theology and the philosophy of religion

Introduction to the Philosophy of Being George Klubertanz, 2022-10-18 The human intellect must begin with sensible things and hence all principles must somehow be found in sense experience The discovery of principles in an induction But there is no danger of empiricism or sensism if we remember that point on which Aristotle and Aquinas were ready to stake their whole philosophy namely that sensible things are potentially intelligible This means that sensible things can be understood as being

Reviving Intellectual Intuition in Metaphysics Kenneth Rose, 2024-11-28 Calling for a revival of intellectual intuition in metaphysics long after its banning by Kant Kenneth Rose overcomes the forgetfulness of being through contemplative ontology Rose argues for the reinstatement of intellectual intuition in metaphysics long after its banning by Kant His claim is not merely the conclusion of a thought experiment or of an exercise in conceptual analysis It is the result of the contemplative recognition of being with a meditatively concentrated intellect nous in Greek and buddhi in Sanskrit Recognizing intellectual intuition as a long neglected faculty of philosophical insight Rose shows how it can result in an immediate intuitive discerning of being He discusses how being parcels itself out into the intellectual forms providing the underlying nonphysical arrangement of the physical and mental worlds By reviving the use of intellectual intuition in metaphysics Rose draws upon historical sources across multiple Asian and Anglo European philosophical schools This is a work of contemplative constructive philosophy that breaks down divisions between science philosophy and religion and between diverse cultures and divergent worldviews

Bread from Heaven Bernhard Blankenhorn, 2021-08-07 Bread from Heaven offers a contemporary theological synthesis on the Eucharist that brings together classical and critical biblical exegesis debates on the early history of the Christian liturgy patristic doctrine the teachings offered by the Councils of Florence Trent and Vatican II and the Church's lex orandi all within a framework provided by the Eucharistic theology of Thomas Aquinas The volume begins with Christ's Bread of Life discourse in John 6 in light of the Old Testament theme of the manna and the Synoptic accounts of the Last Supper These biblical texts offer solid foundation for a theology of Eucharistic sacrifice presence and Communion It then continues with a historical and systematic study of the institution of the Eucharist by Christ with special attention given to the emergence of the first Eucharistic prayers Then follows a survey of key Christological and ecclesiological themes which undergird Eucharistic theology The chapters on Eucharistic sacrifice and presence form the heart of the work Here the focus moves to key conciliar patristic and Thomistic insights on these themes Bread from Heaven clarifies misunderstandings of Eucharistic sacrifice and renders transubstantiation accessible to beginners Blankenhorn concludes with a study of the consecration the minister of the Eucharist and the fruits of communion The chapter on the debate over the words of institution and the epiclesis gives a fresh perspective that integrates both eastern and western tradition The study of the Eucharistic celebrant strikes a balance between a spirituality of the priest as acting in persona Christi and of the priest as praying in persona ecclesiae The concluding chapter centers on the Eucharist's unitive mystical fruits in the Church This textbook is ideal for an advanced undergraduate or graduate course on Eucharistic theology It also seeks to advance the debate on several controversial historical and speculative issues in sacramental theology

A Contemporary Introduction to Thomistic Metaphysics Michael Gorman, 2024 A Contemporary Introduction to Metaphysics provides the reader with an introductory presentation of key themes in Thomistic metaphysics There are many such books but this one is to use a phrase Michael Gorman has adopted analytic facing i.e. it presents things in dialogue with analytic philosophy Sometimes that means disagreeing with analytic proposals for example possible worlds and sometimes it means agreeing with them for instance making ample use of Ryle's notion of systematically misleading expressions What's more it gently takes a somewhat deflationary attitude towards many things metaphysicians like to talk about such as accidents universals and the like By deflationary Gorman means that such items are taken seriously but their ontological status is taken down a notch features universals possible worlds and other such things are understood in terms of what substances are Substances are basic beings and other things are what they are only in relation to substances Of course this is Aristotle 101 but metaphysicians Aristotelians included often slip into treating non substances as mini substances and Gorman pushes back against this throughout A Contemporary Introduction to Thomistic Metaphysics begins by explaining what philosophy is what metaphysics is and how these relate to other kinds of thinking It then moves through a series of topics ending with a brief look at applications of metaphysical thinking in theology

Human and Divine Being Donald Wallenfang, 2017-04-10 Nothing is more dangerous to be misunderstood than the question What is the human being In an era when this question is not only being misunderstood but even forgotten wisdom delivered by the great thinkers and mystics of the past must be recovered Edith Stein 1891 1942 a Jewish Carmelite mystical philosopher offers great promise to resume asking the question of the human being In Human and Divine Being Donald Wallenfang offers a comprehensive summary of the theological anthropology of this heroic martyr to truth Beginning with the theme of human vocation Wallenfang leads the reader through a labyrinth of philosophical and theological vignettes spiritual being the human soul material being empathy the logic of the cross and the meaning of suffering The question of the human being is asked in light of divine being by harnessing the fertile tension between the methods of phenomenology and metaphysics Stein spurs us on to a rendezvous with the stream of perennial philosophy that has watered the landscape of thought since conscious time began In the end the meaning of human being is thrown into sharp relief against the darkness of all that is not authentically human

Arbour, John R. Gilhooly, 2017-01-06 Recent formulations of the inductive continual problem of evil require us to consider new responses to the charge that there is something irrational about believing in God given the type and amount of evil in the world Furthermore fresh approaches to the problem of evil offer suggestive ways to enter a new line of inquiry in regards to both theistic defences against various articulations of the problem of evil and also theodicy Finally developments in contemporary theology especially analytic philosophical theology likewise require new treatments of the problem of evil This volume on the problem on evil presents a series of essays that incorporate responses to these developments The articles fall into three broad sections The first critiques and examines the analytic inductive problem of evil on the basis of its modal underpinnings the discourse of possible worlds and issues related to hiddenness and vagueness The second part presents a narrative response to the problem of evil Its approaches attempt to show the way in which peculiar features of narrative such as dramatic irony verisimilitude and distinctions between person type propositions offer fresh ways to encapsulate our feelings about evil and our response to the theological problems raised by encounters with evil Such existential concerns are valuable for our thinking about these matters The third section relates the problem of evil to developments in contemporary analytic theology such as open theism idealism and the felix culpa theodicy

Faith and Reason Brian Besong, Jonathan Fuqua, 2019-05-20 Too smart to believe in God The twelve philosophers in this book are too smart not to and their finely honed reasoning skills and advanced educations are on display as they explain their reasons for believing in Christianity and entering the Roman Catholic Church Among the twelve converts are well known professors and writers including Peter Kreeft Edward Feser J Budziszewski Candace Vogler and Robert Koons Each story is unique yet each one details the various perceptible ways God drew these lovers of wisdom to himself and to the Church In every case reason played a primary role It had to because being a Catholic philosopher is no easy task when the majority of one's colleagues think that religious faith is irrational Although the reasonableness of the Catholic faith captured the attention of these philosophers and cleared a space into which the seed of supernatural faith could be planted in each of these essays the attentive reader will find a fully human story The contributions are not merely collections of arguments they are stories of grace
