are still struggling to stay competitive That is because they think that cost cutting delivers increased efficiency whereas it is the other way around increased efficiency cuts costs And the heart of efficiency in delivering services is people and their knowledge As industrialization drives ever more standardized offerings and ever little human contact it is in those rare moments of human interaction where the greatest opportunity to add or destroy value lies It is human brains and the knowledge they contain that are best suited to problem solving and individualizing client solutions The real competitive edge will become the ability to foresee and individualize problem solving To do this firms must start thinking of knowledge as inventory who knows what who needs to know what and where and when do they need to know it
