Julio Le Parc. Drawings and Games Amira Gad, Julio Le Parc, 2014-11-28 Disordering the Establishment Lily Woodruff, 2020-05-26 Lily Woodruff examines the development of artistic strategies of political resistance in France in the decades following World War II showing how artists countered establishment ideology challenged traditional art institutions appealed to direct political engagement and grappled with French intellectuals modeling of society Gaming Utopia Claudia Costa Pederson, 2021-04-06 In Gaming Utopia Ludic Worlds in Art Design and Media Claudia Costa Pederson analyzes modernist avant garde and contemporary video games to challenge the idea that gaming is an exclusively white heterosexual male corporatized leisure activity and reenvisions it as a catalyst for social change By looking at over fifty projects that together span a century and the world Pederson explores the capacity for sociopolitical commentary in virtual and digital realms and highlights contributions to the history of gaming by women queer and transnational artists The result is a critical tool for understanding video games as imaginative forms of living that offer alternatives to our current reality With an interdisciplinary approach Gaming Utopia emphasizes how game design creation and play can become political forms of social protest and examines the ways that games as art open doors to a more just and peaceful world The Museum Establishment and Contemporary Art Rebecca J. DeRoo, 2006-01-09 This book provides an in depth account of the protests that shook France in 1968 and which served as a catalyst to a radical reconsideration of artistic practice that has shaped both art and museum exhibitions up to the present Rebecca DeRoo examines how issues of historical and personal memory the separation of public and private domains and the ordinary objects of everyday life emerged as central concerns for museums and for artists as both struggled to respond to the protests She argues that the responses of the museums were only partially faithful to the aims of the activist movements Museums in fact often misunderstood and misrepresented the work of artists that was exhibited as a means of addressing these concerns Analyzing how museums and critics did and did not address the aims of the protests DeRoo highlights the issues relevant to the politics of the public display of art that have been central to artistic representation in France as well as in North America Listen, Here, Now! the artwork This has been heralded as a revolutionary practise that can promote new emancipatory social relations What was it is really In this fully updated edition Claire Bishop follows the trajectory of twentieth century art and examines key moments in the development of a participatory aesthetic This itinerary takes in Futurism and Dada the Situationist International Happenings in Eastern Europe Argentina and Paris the 1970s Community Arts Movement and the Artists Placement Group It concludes with a discussion of long term educational projects by contemporary artists such as Thomas Hirschhorn Tania Bruguera Pawel Althamer and Paul Chan Bishop challenges the political and aesthetic ambitions of participatory art this practise She not only scrutinizes the emancipatory claims but also provides an alternative to the ethical rather than artistic criteria invited by such artworks In response Artificial Hells calls for a less prescriptive approach to art and politics and for more compelling troubling and bolder forms of participatory art and criticism
