Crack a Book's Code

Read a mystery book with your Junior friends. Try to solve the mystery before the characters do.

Once you know whodunnit, go back and find the codes to the mystery—the hidden clues and red herrings (fake clues meant to mislead you!) that kept you guessing.

Detective Test:

What are the differences between these two rooms?

STEP 1 Practice the power of observation

One of a detective's most important skills is the ability to watch people and situations very closely. Work on your observation skills with one of these activities.

CHOICES – DO ONE:

- ☐ Ask an adult helper to find and watch a one-minute online video. Have your helper come up with three questions about the details, such as, "What was the jogger wearing?" Then, watch the video and try to answer the questions.

FOR MORE FUN: Research memory to learn why recalling details can be difficult.

OR

- ☐ Shake up a room. Have someone take five items out of a room and see if you can identify what was taken. Then ask someone to add items to the room and try to spot them.

FOR MORE FUN: Try this in a room that is crowded or really full of stuff.

OR

- ☐ Take notice. Every day for one week, make note of three things you never noticed before as you go home from school. Is there a different car in someone's driveway? Was a tree cut down in a yard? Was a new sign put up at a store?

Every step has three choices. Do ONE choice to complete each step. Inspired? Do more!
