Mining Africa. Law, Environment, Society and Politics in Historical and Multidisciplinary Perspectives Artwell Nhemachena, V. Warikandwa, 2017-05-01

This book is a pacesetter in matters of mining and the environment in Africa from multidisciplinary and spatio-temporal perspectives. The book approaches mining from the perspectives of law, politics, archaeology, anthropology, African studies, geography, human ecology, sociology, history, economics, and development. It interrogates mining and environment from the perspectives of customary law as well as from the perspectives of Euro-modern laws. In this sense, the book straddles precolonial, colonial, and postcolonial mining and environmental perspectives. In all this, it maintains a Pan-Africanist perspective that also speaks to contemporary debates on African Renaissance and to the unity of Africa. From scrutinising the lived realities of African miners who are often insensitively and unjustly addressed as illegal miners, the book also interrogates transnational mining corporations, matters of corporate social responsibility as well as matters of tax evasions by transnational corporations whose commitment to accountability to African governments is questioned. With both theoretical chapters and chapter-based empirical studies on mining and the environment across the African continent, the book provides a much-needed holistic one-stop shop for scholars, activists, researchers, and policy makers who need a comprehensive treatise on African mining and the environment.

The book comes at the right time when matters of African mining and environment are increasingly coming to the fore in the light of discourses about the new 21st century scramble for African resources in which big transnational corporations and nations are jostling to suck Africa dry in their race to control planetary resources. It is a book that speaks to contemporary broader issues of de coloniality and transformation of African minds and African environmental resources. From Antagonism to Re-engagement Richard Kamidza, 2017-07-19. The book interrogates the European Union EU Zimbabwe Economic Partnership Agreement EPA negotiations covering trade in goods trade related rules and development cooperation. The negotiations coincided with EUs motives as the dominant development partner and Zimbabwes state stakeholder fault lines creating dilemmas in the pursuit of a fair EPA outcome. As a result the economically weak Zimbabwe signed and ratified an asymmetrical interim EPA iEPA with an economically powerful EU in 2009 and 2012 respectively. Meanwhile direct bilateral re engagement which eluded the Government of National Unity GNU became real following ZANU PF landslide victory on 31 July 2013 that sufficiently altered the power balance to trigger the process between the former nemesis in support of iEPA domestication and social and economic development. ZANU PF government stopped blaming the EU and other western nations for the countrys continued economic underperformance signaling a softening approach on its part. Similarly the EU and its member states softened its perception on ZANU PF leadership leading to resumption and intensification of re engagement despite failure to implement the Global Political Agreement related constitutional and democratic reforms agreed by GNU. This re engagement was firmly endorsed when the EU and Zimbabwe signed an agreement in July 2015 to normalise bilateral relations and start cooperation.

The End of China's Non-Intervention Policy in Africa Obert Hodzi, 2018-10-22. This book gives a compelling analysis and explanation of shifts in China s non intervention policy in Africa. Systematically connecting the neoclassical realist theoretical logic with an empirical analysis of China s intervention in African civil wars the volume highlights a methodical interlink between theoretical and empirical analysis that takes into consideration the changing status of rising powers in the global system and its effect on their intervention behaviour. Based on field research and expert interviews it provides a rigorous analysis of China s emergent intervention behaviour in some key African conflicts in Libya South Sudan and Mali and broadens the study of external interventions in civil wars to include the intervention behaviour of non Western rising powers. Obert Hodzi is Visiting Researcher at the African Studies Center Boston University USA and Postdoctoral Researcher at the University of Helsinki Finland.

Will Africa Feed China? Deborah

Brautigam,2015-10-07 Is China building a new empire in rural Africa Over the past decade China s meteoric rise on the continent has raised a drumbeat of alarm China has 9 percent of the world s arable land 6 percent of its water and over 20 percent of its people Africa s savannahs and river basins host the planet s largest expanses of underutilized land and water Few topics are as controversial and emotionally charged as the belief that the Chinese government is aggressively buying up huge tracts of prime African land to grow food to ship back to China In Will Africa Feed China Deborah Brautigam one of the world s leading experts on China and Africa probes the myths and realities behind the media headlines Her careful research challenges the conventional wisdom as she shows Chinese farming investments are in fact surprisingly limited and land acquisitions modest Defying expectations China actually exports more food to Africa than it imports Is this picture likely to change African governments are pushing hard for foreign capital and China is building a portfolio of tools to allow its agribusiness firms to go global International concerns about land grabbing are well justified Yet to feed its own growing population rural Africa must move from subsistence to commercial agriculture What role will China play Moving from the halls of power in Beijing to remote irrigated rice paddies of Africa Will Africa Feed China introduces the people and the politics that will shape the future of this engagement the state owned Chinese agribusiness firms that pioneered African farming in the 1960s and the entrepreneurial private investors who followed them Their fascinating stories and those of the African farmers and officials who are their counterparts ground Brautigam s deeply informative deftly balanced reporting Forcefully argued and empirically rich Will Africa Feed China will be a landmark work shedding new light on China s evolving global quest for food security and Africa s possibilities for structural transformation
