Grace Chama-Pupe,2012-07-17 This book is written as testimony to a returnees nightmare It is a well known secret that when people live abroad or in another town or city there is always a spiritual longing for the country or town city they leave behind Nobody expects to return back home after a span of years in a foreign country to surmountable responsibilities On the contrary one assumes to return home as a hero or live a quiet life with less pressing responsibilities Leaving her adult children and friends she has lived with in England the writer of the book returns back to her native country Zambia and realises that she has no support networks as people she perceived to be her friends have either moved on with their lives or moved to other parts of the country As for her immediate family they abandoned the responsibility of caring for an elderly mother solely on her The writer finds the 24 7 caring experience both exhausting and at the best frustrating Hence she turns to writing down her mothers daily observations which serves as an escape route as it evolves positively in her caring role However the author perceives her book as lasting memory to her mother whom she is nursing as she journeys through her twilight days Though as a daughter the writer would like to cling to fond memories of her mother in her previous life before the onset of dementia the writer acknowledges that living and caring for her mother on a day to day basis has made her become aware of the fact that there is still life and fondness between daughter and mother despite the fact that the latter may be engulfed in a life of distortion and confusion By providing a tender and loving care environment the mother flourishes in physical health although there is nothing much one can do about the reversal of mental health well being of a dementia sufferer The Life and Journey of an Entrepreneur Mulenga Maine,2018-02-08 Katongo Maines autobiography is the first book to be published in a new series of memoirs entitled Remarkable Women of Zambia that will show how women have made their mark in politics civil society education business and NGOs Women were always involved in Zambia's Independence struggle and after it was achieved they queued alongside men to vote in the first elections They have never given up their involvement in public life but as elsewhere it was men who slipped into most positions of real power and stayed there For women throughout the world the struggle to fulfil their potential continues and it is hoped that this series will not only claim a place for the remarkable women who figure in Zambia's modern history but also act as an inspiration to younger women today Katongo Maines story tells of a remarkable young girl from a poor family who defied her mother by refusing an arranged marriage determined instead to become a nurse with a career and salary of her own Report of the Committee on Parastatal Bodies for the ... Session of the ... National Assembly Appointed on the ... January ... Zambia. National Assembly. Committee on Parastatal Bodies,1986 Changing Shadows Dr. Henry Musenge,2014-02-13 Changing Shadows is a story about cultural change Starting with a typical Zambian rural setting the book swiftly unfolds to an urban and sophisticated setting depicting discords to human relations revealing the dilemmas of those caught in the middle Mwila clashes with an outdated tradition annoying many traditionalists in the process Although her experiences leave indelible marks on her character Mwila's stint in London strengthens her resolve She returns home more confident cultured and different annoying the conservatives and traditionalists in the process The climax is a confrontation between the two factions Gripping and absorbing sad and at the same time delightful most certainly a story of our times Women's Exclusive The novelette indirectly illuminates aspects of Zambian life such as the vulnerability of women and the drift to urban centers Article Department of literature and languages UNZA A commendable work clearly reflecting the conflict within the changing trends of the Zambian society Feature writer Zambia Daily mail NWG Bulletin New Writers' Group,1972

Conversations with memorable personalities Amos Malupenga,2024-05-21 After reviewing just part of this book's contents Rex Mudenda a risk management professional and Lusaka based avid reader of political science literature states This book is loaded There is usually no such a cocktail of prominent personalities covered in one book I kept on salivating on the featured names under the Conversations section The book has captured a good slice of Zambia's political story Mulenga Kapwepwe a prolific Zambian author states A page turning thriller of historical social and political value Each prominent personality comes alive through Amos Malupenga's compelling narrative allowing us rare glimpses into their personal experiences and connections to pivotal events that have impacted and coloured our fascinating national story The above is an apt description of this book's contents They are as intriguing as they are gripping Because of the cocktail of the personalities featured one can safely say these are several books in one On the basis of these conversations with most of the political figures the author has taken the liberty to draw a parallel between democracy and theocracy In so doing the author concludes that from the beginning of human history even the best human governments democracies have failed to solve mankind's serious problems because of bad leadership owing to the inherent imperfection as a result of sin The bad leadership is increasingly proving to be one of the root causes of all evil in human societies across the entire inhabited earth. Consequently, the author asserts that theocracy is the panacea, the universal cure, the perfect solution and sovereign remedy to mankind's problems, be they big or small. This journey surveys the wonderful art from its traditional function in the distant past to the present era where Zam ragga and hip hop have taken root. The book also plays tribute to the often unsung heroes who have devoted their lives and careers to the growth of the music industry. Music is an essential mass media tool that contributes to the socio-cultural development of society. As a result of this, the book further attempts to look at the role music has played in shaping the socio-cultural and economic development of the country. Cover Africa Digest, 1972.
