Escape from God Dean Turner,1991      Will as Commitment and Resolve John J. Davenport,2009-08-25 In contemporary philosophy the will is often regarded as a sheer philosophical fiction In Will as Commitment and Resolve Davenport argues not only that the will is the central power of human agency that makes decisions and forms intentions but also that it includes the capacity to generate new motivation different in structure from prepurposive desires The concept of projective motivation is the central innovation in Davenport s existential account of the everyday notion of striving will Beginning with the contrast between eastern and western attitudes toward assertive willing Davenport traces the lineage of the idea of projective motivation from NeoPlatonic and Christian conceptions of divine motivation to Scotus Kant Marx Arendt and Levinas Rich with historical detail this book includes an extended examination of Platonic and Aristotelian eudaimonist theories of human motivation Drawing on contemporary critiques of egoism Davenport argues that happiness is primarily a byproduct of activities and pursuits aimed at other agent transcending goods for their own sake In particular the motives in virtues and in the practices as defined by Alasdair MacIntyre are projective rather than eudaimonist This theory is supported by analyses of radical evil accounts of intrinsic motivation in existential psychology and contemporary theories of identity forming commitment in analytic moral psychology Following Viktor Frankl Joseph Raz and others Davenport argues that Harry Frankfurt s conception of caring requires objective values worth caring about which serve as rational grounds for projecting new final ends The argument concludes with a taxonomy of values or goods devotion to which can make life meaningful for us      Freedom Unlimited Jeffrey S. Hocking,2010-10-18 How are we to understand the freedom for which Christ has set us free Gal 5 1 Could it be that we have barely glimpsed what this might mean Most theological accounts of freedom frame the discussion in terms of heteronomy or autonomy In the Protestant tradition Calvinists are known for championing the former and Arminians are credited with advocating the latter More recently open theists in significantly modifying the Arminian paradigm argue that neither tradition provides a satisfying account of human freedom and propose a more libertarian form of autonomy This book joins the debate at this point not in order to take sides but to suggest a theology that can get beyond not between the heteronomy and autonomy that seem to exhaust the present theological options Clark Pinnock serves as the chief protagonist because of his role as a leading figure in the Openness of God movement Because his own development can be described as a pilgrimage from Calvinism to Arminianism to open theism the present work is able to offer its sympathetic critique in the form of an invitation that we continue to journey in the spirit of openness beyond both heteronomy and autonomy towards a view of divine and human freedom that is covenantal participatory and unlimited

The Era of Choice Edward C. Rosenthal Ph.D., 2006-09-22 How today's cornucopia of choices has transformed our lives and our culture from the foundations of scientific theory to the anxiety of everyday decisions Today most of us are awash with choices The cornucopia of material goods available to those of us in the developed world can turn each of us into a kid in a candy store but our delight at picking the prize is undercut by our regret at lost opportunities And what s the criterion for choosing anything material spiritual the path taken or not taken when we have lost our faith in everything In The Era of Choice Edward Rosenthal argues that choice and having to make choices has become the most important influence in both our personal lives and our cultural expression Choice he claims has transformed how we live how we think and who we are This transformation began in the nineteenth century catalyzed by the growing prosperity of the Industrial Age and a diminishing faith in moral and scientific absolutes The multiplicity of choices forces us to form oppositions this says Rosenthal has spawned a keen interest in dualism dilemmas contradictions and paradoxes In response we have developed mechanisms to hedge compromise and to synthesize Rosenthal looks at the scientific and philosophical theories and cultural movements that choice has influenced from physics for example Niels Bohr s theory that light is both particle and wave to postmodernism from Disney trailers to multiculturalism He also reveals the effect of choice on the personal level where we grapple with decisions that range from which wine to have with dinner to whether to marry or divorce as we hurtle through lives of instant gratification accelerated consumption trend change and speed But we have discovered writes Rosenthal that sometimes we can have our cake and eat it too The Westminster Review ,1858 Westminster and Foreign

Quarterly Review ,1858 A Criminological Biography of an Arms Dealer Yarin Eski,2022-01-31 For many the arms trade and its dealers are the root cause of regional wars and global terrorism In both public and academic debates arms dealers are considered immoral as they profit from conflict due to their key position in the international arms trading business Nevertheless there seems to be little to no interest in the personal lives of those actively involved In his criminological biography of a licensed arms dealer Yarin Eski provides an in depth interdisciplinary approach to and understanding of the global arms trade revealing a deep insider view placed in a wider sociocultural context From early discussions about childhood and career choices to reflections on becoming and being an arms trader Eski offers a methodologically embedded approach and advances biographical writing in the field of Criminology It is a unique and thought provoking contribution to the fields of criminology ethnography sociology critical security studies policing studies war studies and international politics and offers an unparalleled insight from within The Life and Thoughts of Li Ho Naotaro Kudo,1969 Christian Advocate ,1914 The Latter-Day Saints' Millennial Star ,1882
