South African Schooling: The Enigma of Inequality Nic Spaull, Jonathan D. Jansen, 2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa's leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90/10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people s future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI

The Decline in Educational Standards James D. Williams,2019-04-15 The Decline in Educational Standards From a Public Good to a Quasi Monopoly is about the commodification of education and the factors that have changed education from a public good into a commodity over the last 50 years When we look at today s education we see that academic standards in public education have been declining for decades even as education funding has reached nearly a trillion dollars per year to fund such failed programs as No Child Left Behind and Common Core Simultaneously tuition and fees at public universities have increased nearly 2000 percent over the last 30 years and student loan debt is now a staggering 1.5 trillion Quite simply education has become big business This book examines the various issues associated with the commodification of education especially neoliberalism and privatized Keynesianism what they are how they developed and how they have affected education and public policy It argues that neoliberalism and the related socioeconomic shift to debt based consumerism are at the center of commodification leading to a significant decline in the exchange value of a college degree It also argues that we cannot understand the changes in our public and higher education systems without examining the historical social economic and political factors that have essentially created an education system that is significantly different from what it was in the not so distant past The Shifting Global World of Youth and Education Mabel Ann Brown, 2017-08-15 The Shifting Global World of Youth and Education explores how increasing migration and population changes are having an unprecedented impact on global education. Given that the number of children of migrant background is growing internationally, there is a need for increasing awareness of the educational attainment and cultural integration of this population group. This book presents international perspectives on migration and youth and analyses what kinds of effects such demographic changes are having on educational systems around the world. The chapters in this volume provide a fascinating insight into how countries around the world are dealing with loss or growth in their young population as well as changes to their education systems. Written by specialist academics from the relevant country, the book covers Cuba, Lithuania, the United Kingdom, the United States, Finland, Greece, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Latvia, China, Australia, India, Italy, and Poland. Taking into consideration the countries' social and political context, the chapters discuss educational issues surrounding curriculum, assessment, and the opportunities available for the support of young people. Conclusions are drawn about what could be done in the future for the benefit of both the migrant and the existing populations. The Shifting Global World of Youth and Education will be of great interest to academics, researchers, and postgraduate students in the disciplines of education, sociology, political sciences, and social work. The book will also give secondary teachers, teaching assistants, social workers, and youth workers the opportunity to reflect on their role within a national and international context.

Overcoming Challenges to Gender Equality in the Workplace Patricia M. Flynn, Kathryn Haynes, Maureen A. Kilgour, 2017-09-08 Many businesses and organizations are increasingly aware of the case for promoting gender equality both within and outside their organizational boundaries. Evidence suggests that gender equality in the workplace boosts performance and legal frameworks in many countries mandate specific action on gender inequality in the workplace. However, despite organizational policies on promoting equality and equal opportunities, there remain challenges to be overcome in many businesses, including throughout their supply chains. The book provides research rationales as to why responsible organizations must address the issue of gender equality in the workplace. It also presents case studies, action research, and examples of good practices describing how businesses and organizations are working to promote gender equality in various contexts. The book is designed to support the rationale for gender equality in business and organizations, providing evidence of implementation of gender equality in the workplace and advice on how to deal with and overcome challenges. It will be of interest to academics, employees, practitioners, policy makers, businesses, institutions, and organizations.

Change Management During Unprecedented Times Tennin, Kyla Latrice, 2023-04-25 Conclusively, resilience, education, financial inclusion, digital transformation, strategic partnerships, and particularly change management are needed when crises occur in order to save and advance organizational ecosystems and economies. Therefore, it is crucial to know about the ideation and processes of change management to improve companies' negative circumstances. Change Management During Building the Anti-Racist University Shirley Anne Tate, Paul Bagguley, 2018-12-18. In the new arena for anti racist work in which we find ourselves the neo liberal post race university this interdisciplinary collection demonstrates common global political concerns about racism in Higher Education. It highlights a range of issues regarding students academic staff and knowledge systems and all of the contributions seek to challenge the complacency of the post race present that is dominant in North West Europe and North America. Brazil's mythical racial democracy and South Africa's post apartheid rainbow nation. The collection makes clear that we are not yet past the need for anti racist institutional action because of the continuing impact of coloniality on and in these nations. From within the colonial psyche which still exists in the 21st century these nations actively deracinate politics subjectivities political economy and affective relationalities when they re imagine themselves to be post race states where all citizens can have a share in the good life because now only class matters. Universities have also taken on the mantle of upholding societal post race status through ineffective equality and diversity policies and strategies. The collection makes the case for the urgent need to decolonize the university in post race neoliberal times through a focus on institutional racism in HEIs in Canada Brazil South Africa the UK and the USA. As such it addresses institutional whiteness the transformation of organizational cultures the presence and experiences of Black people People of Colour and Indigenous people in HEIs the development of curriculum interventions widening participation and organizational change and future directions for racial equality and diversity in a post race era. This book was originally published as a special issue of Race Ethnicity and Education.

Parenting Across Cultures Helaine Selin, 2022-11-22. This second edition of Helaine Selin's successful Parenting Across Cultures comes at a time where interest in parenting has increased across the world as a result of the COVID pandemic as parents and children were put into different and often challenging conditions. This new edition like the first contains chapters from countries in Asia Africa and South America as well as from indigenous cultures of several Western countries. The chapters were revised to include new research in the post pandemic world. They show that there is a strong connection between culture and parenting there are differences in affection and distance harshness and repression and acceptance and criticism. Some parents insist on obedience others are concerned with individual development. This clearly differs from parent to parent but there is just as clearly a connection to culture which these chapters explore. In addition to the chapters on individual countries the second edition includes a section on the pandemic as well as new research on parenting and technology gender religion adoption step parenting divorce single parents racism gay parents disabilities autism eating
