Green Island Shawna Yang Ryan, 2017-01-10 BEST BOOK AWARD IN FICTION BY THE ASSOCIATION FOR ASIAN AMERICAN STUDIES A stunning lyrical novel that tells the story of how the Tsais a Taiwanese family survive the February 28 Incident of 1947 and precariously navigate the decades that follow The New York Times As an uprising rocks Taiwan a young doctor in Taipei is taken from his newborn daughter by Chinese Nationalists on charges of speaking out against the government Although the doctor eventually returns to his family his arrival is marked by alienation from his loved ones and paranoia among his community Years later this troubled past follows his youngest daughter to America where as a mother and a wife she too is forced to decide between what is right and what might save her family the same choice she witnessed her father make many years before The story of a family and a nation grappling with the nuances of complicity and survival Green Island raises the question how far would you go for the ones you love Green Island Dave Patterson, 2008-04-01 Bk I Greenways bk 2 A place to stand Taiwanese Literature as World Literature Pei-yin Lin, Wen-chi Li, 2022-12-15 Owing to Taiwan's multi ethnic nature and palimpsestic colonial past Taiwanese literature is naturally multilingual Although it can be analyzed through frameworks of Japanophone literature and Chinese literature and the more provocative Sinophone literature only through viewing Taiwanese literature as world literature can we redress the limits of national identity and fully examine writers transculturation practice globally minded vision and the politics of its circulation Throughout the colonial era Taiwanese writers gained inspiration from global literary trends mainly but not exclusively through the medium of Japanese and Chinese Modernism was the mainstream literary style in 1960s Taiwan and since the 1980s Taiwanese literature has demonstrated a unique trajectory shaped jointly by postmodernism and postcolonialism These movements exhibit Taiwanese writers creative adaptations of world literary thought as a response to their local and trans national reality During the postwar years Taiwanese literature began to be more systematically introduced to world readers through translation Over the past few decades Taiwanese authors and their translated works have participated in global conversations such as those on climate change the post truth era and ethnic and gender equality Bringing together scholars and translators from Europe North America and East Asia the volume focuses on three interrelated themes the framing and worlding ploys of Taiwanese literature Taiwanese writers experience of transculturation and politics behind translating Taiwanese literature The volume stimulates new ways of conceptualizing Taiwanese literature demonstrates remarkable cases of Taiwanese authors co option of world trends in their Taiwan concerned writing and explores its readership and dissemination Memory Reconfiguration in Post-War Taiwanese Literature Chung-Yen Yu, 2025-07-23 This book examines the impact of martial law on transgenerational memory in post World War II Taiwan Through an intense focus on the symptoms of memories Yu argues that collective remembrances in post war Taiwan must be studied alongside the islanders collective amnesia as the post war regime coerced its citizens into forgetting To do so the book examines the core issue through the lens of two fictional works Green Island 2016 by Shawna Yang Ryan and The Stolen Bicycle originally published in 2015 translated in 2017 by Ming yi Wu whose narrators belong to the post war generation and find themselves unable to understand their parents traumas It also observes how the war generation memorize consecutive and entangled colonial experiences experiencing linguistic and social diaspora without the act of migration Ultimately Yu argues that post memory in these circumstances not only refers to secondary memory but bears an anti memory characteristic as Taiwanese society under martial law shunned the traumas of WWII and the March Massacre in 1947

The Starfish Man of Green Island Caligo Mirth, When a sarcastic young detective lands a quiet assignment on Taiwan's remote Green Island he expects sunburn boredom and maybe a jellyfish sting not a half buried corpse with starfish like skin and bones that don't match any species on Earth Teaming up with an awkward marine biologist and a conspiracy loving lighthouse keeper he stumbles into something far stranger than murder a forgotten alien signal a war between ancient intelligences and an island that remembers more than it should As the boundaries between science and myth begin to erode he must decode a mystery that stretches across oceans centuries and stars But the deeper he digs the clearer it becomes Some echoes should remain buried Some discoveries rewrite what it means to be human And some things waiting beneath the waves are not dead
