Study the source and answer the questions that follow.

SOURCE A

World War I, also known as the Great War, began in 1914 after the assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria. His murder catapulted into a war across Europe that lasted until 1918. During the conflict, Germany, Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and the Ottoman Empire (the Central Powers) fought against Great Britain, France, Russia, Italy, Romania, Canada, Japan and the United States (the Allied Powers). Thanks to new military technologies and the horrors of trench warfare, World War I saw unprecedented levels of carnage and destruction. By the time the war was over and the Allied Powers claimed victory, more than 16 million people—soldiers and civilians alike—were dead.

Imperial Wine
Jennifer Regan-Lefebvre, 2022-04-05 A fascinating and approachable deep dive into the colonial roots of the global wine industry Imperial Wine is a bold rigorous history of Britain s surprising role in creating the wine industries of Australia South Africa and New Zealand Here historian Jennifer Regan Lefebvre bridges the genres of global commodity history and imperial history presenting provocative new research in an accessible narrative This is the first book to argue that today s global wine industry exists as a result of settler colonialism and that imperialism was central not incidental to viticulture in the British colonies Wineries were established almost immediately after the colonization of South Africa Australia and New Zealand as part of a civilizing mission tidy vines heavy with fruit were symbolic of Britain s subordination of foreign lands Economically and culturally nineteenth century settler winemakers saw the British market as paramount However British drinkers were apathetic towards what they pejoratively called colonial wine The tables only began to turn after the First World War when colonial wines were marketed as cheap and patriotic and started to find their niche among middle and working class British drinkers This trend combined with social and cultural shifts after the Second World War laid the foundation for the New World revolution in the 1980s making Britain into a confirmed country of wine drinkers and a massive market for New World

wines These New World producers may have only received critical acclaim in the late twentieth century but Imperial Wine shows that they had spent centuries wooing and indeed manufacturing a British market for inexpensive colonial wines This book is sure to satisfy any curious reader who savors the complex stories behind this commodity chain Mastering Primary History Karin Doull, Christopher Russell, Alison Hales, 2019-02-21 Mastering Primary History introduces the primary history curriculum and helps trainees and teachers learn how to plan and teach inspiring lessons that make learning history irresistible Topics covered include Current developments in history History as an irresistible activity History as a practical activity Skills to develop in history Promoting curiosity Assessing children in history Practical issues This guide includes examples of children's work case studies readings to reflect upon and reflective questions that all help to show students and teachers what is considered to be best and most innovative practice and how they can use that knowledge in their own teaching to the greatest effect The book draws on the experience of three leading professionals in primary history Karin Doull Christopher Russell and Alison Hales to provide the essential guide to teaching history for all trainee primary teachers

Mass Intellectuality and Democratic Leadership in Higher Education Joss Winn, Richard Hall, 2017-08-24

Higher education in the UK is in crisis The idea of the public university is under assault and both the future of the sector and its relationship to society are being gambled Higher education is increasingly unaffordable its historic institutions are becoming untenable and their purpose is resolutely instrumental What and who have led us to this crisis What are the alternatives To whom do we look for leadership in revealing those alternatives This book critically analyses intellectual leadership in the university exploring ongoing efforts from around the world to create alternative models for organizing higher education and the production of knowledge Its authors offer their experience and views from inside and beyond the structures of mainstream higher education in order to reflect on efforts to create alternatives In the process the volume asks is it possible to reimagine the university democratically and cooperatively If so what are the implications for leadership not just within the university but also in terms of higher education's relationship to society The authors argue that mass higher education is at the point where it no longer reflects the needs capacities and longterm interests of global society An alternative role and purpose is required based upon mass intellectuality or the real possibility of democracy in learning and the production of knowledge

Anti-genocide Activists and the Responsibility to Protect Annette Jansen, 2017-05-08 Although the Genocide Convention was already adopted by the UN General Assembly in 1948 it was only in the late 1990s that groups of activists emerged calling for military interventions to halt mass atrocities The question of who these anti genocide activists are and what motivates them to call for the use of violence to end violence is undoubtedly worthy of exploration Based on extensive field research Anti genocide Activists and the Responsibility to Protect analyses the ideological convictions that motivate two groups of anti genocide activists East Timor solidarity activists and Responsibility to Protect R2P advocates The book argues that there is an existential undercurrent to the call for mass atrocity interventions that mass atrocities shock the activists belief in a humanity that they hold to be sacred The book argues that the ensuing rise of anti genocide activism signals a shift in humanitarian sensibilities to human suffering and violence which may have substantial implications for moral judgements on human lives at peril in the humanitarian and human rights community This book provides a fascinating insight into the worldviews of activists which will be of interest to practitioners and researchers of human rights activism humanitarian advocacy and peace building

Beyond Every Child Matters Catherine Simon, 2016-12-01 The United Kingdom's Conservative Liberal Democrat coalition government 2010-15 was responsible for some of the most radical changes to education policy for decades Beyond Every Child Matters provides a critical overview of developments in education and social welfare policy in the years following the 2010 general election It explores the conceptual background of a Big Society used to frame Coalition policy and shows how the underlying spectre of neoliberalism both creates issues for policy attention and undermines ensuing policy solutions This book charts those changes which have impacted upon education and schooling in England and Wales and is divided into two parts Part I analyses Conservative philosophical thought and policy discussions that underpin the social welfare and education policies introduced under the Conservative led coalition government of 2010-15 and the subsequent Conservative administration since 2015 Part II looks at these policies in detail and concludes with a discussion of possible alternative policy approaches Set against a backdrop of unprecedented economic crisis and austerity Beyond Every Child Matters will be of interest to students of education and welfare policy academics and researchers

Ghosts of the Somme Jonathan Evershed, 2018-05-30 Once assumed to be a driver or even cause of conflict commemoration during Ireland's Decade of Centenaries came to occupy a central place in peacebuilding efforts The inclusive and cross communal reorientation of commemoration particularly of the First World War has been widely heralded as signifying new forms of reconciliation and a greater maturity in relationships between Ireland and the UK and between Unionists and Nationalists in Northern Ireland In this study Jonathan Evershed interrogates the particular and implicitly political claims about the nature of history memory and commemoration that define and sustain these assertions and explores some of the hidden and countervailing transcripts that underwrite and disrupt them Drawing on two years of ethnographic fieldwork conducted in Belfast Evershed explores Ulster Loyalist commemoration of the Battle of the Somme its conflicted politics and its confrontation with official commemorative discourse and practice during the Decade of Centenaries He investigates how and why the myriad social political cultural and economic changes that have defined postconflict Northern Ireland have been experienced by Loyalists as a culture war and how commemoration is the means by which they confront and challenge the perceived erosion of their identity He reveals the ways in which this brings Loyalists into conflict not only with the politics of Irish Nationalism but with the peacebuilding state and crucially with each other He demonstrates how commemoration works to reproduce the intracommunal conflicts that it claims to have overcome and interrogates its nuanced and perhaps counterintuitive function in conflict transformation

Women and museums 1850-1914 Kate Hill, 2016-07-01 This book recovers the significant contribution made by women to museums not just in obvious roles such as workers but also as donors visitors volunteers and patrons It suggests that women persistently acted to domesticate the museum by importing domestic objects and domestic regimes of value as well as by making museums more welcoming to children and even by stressing the importance of housekeeping at the museum At the same time women sought masculine careers in science and curatorship but found such aspirations hard to achieve their contribution tended to be kept within clear feminised areas The book will be of interest to those working on gender culture or museums in the period It sheds new light on women s material culture and material strategies education and professional careers and leisure practices It will form an important historical context for those working in contemporary museum studies

The Unmaking of Arab Socialism Ali Kadri, 2016-10-01 Conditions of malnutrition conflict or a combination of both characterize many Arab countries but this was not always so As in much of the developing world the immediate post independence period represented an age of hope and relative prosperity But imperialism did not sleep while these countries developed and it soon intervened to destroy these post independence achievements The two principal defeats and losses of territory to Israel in 1967 and 1973 as well as the others that followed left in their wake more than the destruction of assets and the loss of human lives the Arab World lost its ideology of resistance The Unmaking of Arab Socialism is an attempt to understand the reasons for Arab world s developmental descent from the pinnacle of Arab socialism to its present desolate conditions through an examination of the post colonial histories of Egypt Syria and Iraq

Domurad,2019-03-22 Through the study of Hamburg handicraft in the late Weimar Republic Hometown Hamburg addresses three intertwined problems in modern German history the role of institutionalized social political and cultural continuity versus contingency in the course of modern German development the impact of conflicting notions of social order on the survival of liberal democracy and the role of corporate politics in the rise of National Socialism It provides a theoretical and analytical framework for reintroducing the notion of historical continuity in the study of modern German history The book also supports the recent challenges to the notion of Hamburg as a liberal economic and political bastion a London on the Elbe in a nation of conservative and authoritarian governmental regimes Hometown Hamburg demonstrates why liberal and socialist Hamburg also remained a hotbed of corporate radicalism and underscores the fact that National Socialism was the only political party that presented a coherent vision of a corporate good society thereby making it attractive to hometown voters across the entire social spectrum in Hamburg and in Germany     Securing the MRAP James Hasik,2021-08-16
