International Perspectives on Teaching Rival Histories Henrik Åström Elmersjö, Anna Clark, Monika Vinterek, 2017-04-04 This book presents a survey of approaches to dealing with rival histories in the classroom arguing that approaching this problem requires great sensitivity to differing national educational and narrative contexts Contested narratives and disputed histories have long been an important issue in history teaching all over the world and have even been described as the history or culture wars In this book authors from across the globe ponder the question what can teachers do and what are they doing to address conflicting narratives of the same past and puts an epistemological issue at the heart of the discussion what does it mean for the epistemology of history if it is possible to teach more than one narrative Divided into three sections that deal with historical cultures multicultural societies and multiperspectivity the chapters of the book showcase that dealing with rival histories is very much dependent on context and that diverse teaching traditions and societal debates mean that teachers abilities in engaging with the teaching of rival narratives are very different The volume will be compelling reading for students and researchers in the fields of education history sociology and philosophy as well as practising teachers
