The Authentic Dissertation Donald Trent Jacobs, 2009-05-07 The Authentic Dissertation is a road map for students who want to make their dissertation more than a series of hoop jumping machinations that cause them to lose the vitality and meaningfulness of their research Students and tutors are presented with practical guidance for the kind of alternative dissertations that many educators believe are needed to move Doctoral and Master s level work beyond the limitations that currently stifle authentic contributions for a better world Drawing on his Cherokee Creek ancestry and the Raramuri shamans of Mexico the author explores how research can regain its humanist core and find its true place in the natural order once more Four Arrows provides a degree of credibility that will help graduate students legitimize their ideas in the eyes of more conservative university committees This inspiring book will also help academics who sincerely want to see these alternative forms but are concerned about the rigor of alternative dissertation research and presentation The featured dissertation stories tap into more diverse perspectives more authentic experience and reflection and more creative abilities They are in essence spiritual undertakings that Honour the centrality of the researcher s voice experience creativity and authority Focus more on important questions than on research methodologies per se Reveal virtues generosity patience courage respect humility fortitude etc Regard the people s version of reality The goal of this book is not to replace the historical values of academic research in the western tradition but to challenge some of these values and offer alternative ideas that stem from different sometimes opposing values

Dissertation and Scholarly Research: Recipes for Success: 2018 Edition Jim Goes, Marilyn K. Simon, 2017-09-20 A Dissertation Guide for Professional Learners Doctoral education has changed dramatically over the last three decades Traditionally pursuit of a doctoral or research credential involved intense study at a large traditional research university and was reserved for those seeking careers in academia or research The process of completing doctoral level work at traditional universities usually required a commitment to full time study varied tremendously between institutions and was often somewhat mysterious Today all this has changed The emergence and growth of online education has led to a proliferation of doctoral learning possibilities for busy professionals. Individuals in the industry, nonprofit, and education sectors are pursuing doctoral study as a means to advance their careers, increase their market value in the workplace, and establish their professional stature. If this sounds like you, then you have come to the right place. Recipes for Success is the book that will launch you on a successful quest for the doctoral degree. Dissertations are very personal endeavors and accomplishments originating with problems and issues that are meaningful and important to the doctoral learner. These professionals are deeply grounded in their understanding of the issues and needs of their profession. Recipes build on this understanding, helping learners to discover and frame issues they are passionate about and construct a credible and influential research study around this passion. While most dissertation guides focus largely or exclusively on the mechanics of writing and organization, Recipes approaches dissertation development as an iterative process of thinking and self-reflection that leads learners to discover what matters most to them and to their professions and enables them to frame this meaning into a research problem and purpose and to organize and execute a study design to fit and thus solve the problem and achieve the purpose. From the very beginning of your doctoral journey to the ultimate achievement of degree completion, this book is your guide to the process and content of dissertation and research creation. In Recipes for Success, we articulate a process by which you can build the pieces of a successful and influential dissertation. Using a workbook approach rich in tools, templates, frameworks, examples, web integration, and hard-won lessons from experience, Recipes provides a friendly, easy-to-navigate process for crafting issues and ideas into research and results. Based on our 40 years of collective experience in the online educational setting, mentoring over 300 professional learners to success in completing their doctorates, including numerous award winners, we identify the most important factors for success and the traps to avoid. Whether you are considering doctoral study, are already in a doctoral program, or are working to develop and complete your dissertation, you will find Recipes for Success a key ingredient in your success as a doctoral learner. Our graduates tell us that Recipes is THE book that made a difference in their doctoral career and success. YOU can do it too. Good luck on your doctoral journey.

How to Write a Dissertation Benjamin Baisai Silas Madondo, 2013-08-19. A retired extensionist after thirty-four years of public extension service. He was formerly trained at Chibero College of Agriculture. He served in three provinces as head in three provinces of Mashonaland and Midlands respectively. Some of the highlights of his career include taking women into extension as extension workers at field levels. He also engaged black officers to work in European areas as advisers, a new dimension that was unique. Discrimination on the use of public utilities was abolished during his time. Black and white officer operation was integrated into one service. Extension as a discipline offered interesting challenges to the discipline. It was transformed into an academic discipline from one that had confined workers to the sole use of the hoe to the one that was upgraded to the use of a pen and paper, backed by officers who used the motor bike to a four-wheeled vehicle. After retiring from public service, he joined the Zimbabwe Open University as Senior Lecturer, a post he holds currently Benjamin owns a commercial farm of 190 hectares where he raises beef cattle and grows crops under normal conditions He holds a master s degree and is working for DPHIL programme with the Zimbabwe Open University Benjamin is married with one wife and has one son and daughter who are mature He has three grand children
