Restoring Respect for Justice Martin Wright, 2008 This book records a symposium where imaginary presenters consisting of a politician judge psychologist probation officer victim assistance worker philosopher and mediator discuss crime and punishment This is the springboard for a review of developments in the field of restorative justice challenging many sacred cows of crime and punishment and focusing on the people who suffer directly the victims A key theme is that if society as a whole does not encourage respect then it ought to be no surprise that offenders have scant regard for the property physical integrity or rights of other people The system itself can serve to weaken rather than improve safety and security The book points to the dangers of a punitive mind set and reflects on the arguments and data in favour of an effective inclusionary community based response to crime

Crime, Criminal Law and Criminal Justice in Europe Hans-Jörg Albrecht, André Klip, 2013-02-15 This unique collection of essays celebrates the twentieth anniversary of the seminal journal the European Journal of Crime Criminal Law and Criminal Justice as well as the outstanding and uninterrupted work over that period of its founding Editor in Chief Professor Cyrille Fijnaut The volume consists of a selection of some of the most ground breaking articles published over the past twenty years covering the three areas of focus of the journal problems of crime developments in criminal law and changes in criminal justice It thus explores such diverse issues as the problems of crime in Central and Eastern Europe after the disappearance of the Soviet Union and the collapse of Yugoslavia the allocation of criminal law power in the European Union police cooperation in the border areas of the Member States the criminalization of white collar crime the establishment of European police services and of a European Public Prosecutor's Office new forms of criminal justice cooperation between the Member States and many others The journal's unique multidisciplinary approach and its commitment to offer insights from a wide variety of European countries and language areas ensure that a varied range of perspectives are offered on the topics discussed The result is an enlightening and highly readable anthology shedding light on the extraordinary developments that have taken place in the area of crime and punishment in Europe

The Politics of Prison Crowding Simone Santorso, 2023-02-14 The Politics of Prison Crowding investigates recent transformations in Italy's penal system to make the key analytical observation that conditions of overcrowding have become the new normal under which the modern prison system continues to operate and deliver punishment Engaging with the politics of crowding thus entails a direct and pertinent engagement with the modern state's politics of criminal justice and social control. Worldwide over the last decades a growing number of jurisdictions have prison systems operating above or to the limit of their capacity yet little attention has been paid to these elements in the analysis of prison politics and day to day functions. By exploring the crowding issue this book offers an original and interesting insight into the politics and dynamics characterising contemporary prison systems. The hypothesis of this book is that the politics of prison crowding have become the template for the daily administration of the prison system which incorporates not just policy and rules but day to day functions and practices regulating life behind bars. Through interviews in modern Italian prisons the book brings to light a radical redefinition of a carceral system that harshens the delivery of punishment while justifying this exacerbation of pain by adding new bureaucratic logic to the administration of the penal system within a narrative of compliance to human rights standards. By shedding new light on prison politics to open new critical perspectives and research paths The Politics of Prison Crowding offers a fundamental tool to scholars, students and all professional policymakers and practitioners dealing with prison policies and the politics of justice.

Crime in Rural Australia brings together leading academics who examine the major dimensions of crime and justice in rural and regional Australia.

Restorative Justice in Transition Kerry Clamp, 2013-09-05 This book explores how restorative justice is used and what its potential benefits are in situations where the state has been either explicitly or implicitly involved in human rights abuses. Restorative justice is increasingly becoming a popular mechanism to respond to crime in democratic settings and while there is a burgeoning literature on these contexts there is less information that focuses explicitly on its use in nations that have experienced protracted periods of conflict and oppression. This book interrogates both macro and micro utilisations of restorative justice including truth commissions, criminal justice reform and the development of initiatives by communities and other non state actors. The central premise is that the primary potential of restorative justice in responding to international crime should be viewed in terms of the lessons that it provides for problem solving rather than its traditional role as a mechanism or process to respond to conflict. Four values are put forward that should frame any restorative approach: engagement, empowerment, reintegration and transformation. It is thought that these values provide enough space for local actors to devise their own culturally relevant processes to achieve longstanding peace. This book will be of interest to those conducting research in the fields of restorative justice, transitional justice as well as criminology in general.
