June Examination 2014 English Home Language 2 3 2014:

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy. The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages. Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools. The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully. The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience.

The Pedagogy of Standardized Testing Arlo Kempf, 2016-04-29 Based on a large scale international study of teachers in Los Angeles, Chicago, Ontario and New York, this book illustrates the ways increased use of high stakes standardized testing is fundamentally changing education in the US and Canada with a negative overall impact on the way teachers teach and students learn. Standardized testing makes understanding students' strengths and weaknesses more difficult and class time spent on testing consumes scarce time and attention needed to support the success of all students, further disadvantaging ELLs, students with exceptionalities, low income and racially minoritized students.

Language Across the Curriculum & CLIL in English as an Additional Language (EAL) Contexts Angel M.Y. Lin, 2016-09-15 This book will be of interest to a broad readership regardless of whether they have a background in sociolinguistics functional linguistics or genre theories It presents an accessible meta language i.e. a language for talking about language that is workable and usable for teachers and researchers from both language and content backgrounds thus facilitating collaboration across content and language subject panels Chapters 1 to 3 lay the theoretical foundation of this common meta language by critically reviewing systematically presenting and integrating key theoretical resources for teachers and researchers in this field In turn Chapters 4 to 7 focus on issues in pedagogy and assessment and on school based approaches to LAC and CLIL drawing on both research studies and the experiences of front line teachers and school administrators Chapter 8 provides a critical and reflexive angle on the field by asking difficult questions regarding how LAC and CLIL are often situated in contexts characterized by inequality of access to the linguistic and cultural capitals where the local languages of the students are usually neglected or viewed unfavourably in relation to the L2 in mainstream society and where teachers are usually positioned as recipients of knowledge rather than makers of knowledge In closing Chapter 9 reviews the state of the art in the field and proposes directions for future inquiry

L2 Writing Assessment Anthony Green, 2022-12-07 This book tackles three choices that face developers of L2 writing assessments defining L2 writing abilities collecting evidence of those abilities usually by getting L2 writers to write something and judging their performance usually by assigning a score or grade to it It takes a historical view of how assessment developers have made those choices how contemporary practices emerged and of alternative techniques that have risen and fallen over time The three sections each tackle one of these choices The first considers the social functions that define L2 writing and assessment the second relates how assessment tasks have adapted to changing conceptions of languages writing and assessment and the third explores how scoring systems have evolved Each section brings the reader up to date with current issues confronting writing assessment both in large scale testing and in language classrooms before considering the new opportunities and challenges of the digital age This book will be of interest to students scholars and practitioners in language assessment language education and applied linguistics

Law and Society in Malaysia Andrew Harding, Dian A. H. Shah, 2018-01-02 This book provides a systematic and interdisciplinary examination of law and legal institutions in Malaysia It examines legal issues from historical social and political perspectives and discusses the role of law in relation to Malaysian multiculturalism religion politics and society It shows how the Malaysian legal system is at the heart of debates about how to deal with the country's problems which include ethnic and religious divisions uneven and unsustainable development and political authoritarianism and it argues that the Malaysian legal system has much to teach other plural polities nations within the common law tradition and federal states

Language Development and Social Integration of Students with English as an Additional Language

Michael Evans, Claudia Schneider, Madeleine Arnot, Linda Fisher, Karen Forbes, Yongcan Liu, Oakleigh Welply, 2020-07-16 Given the current context of the experience of migration on schools in England and Europe and the competing policies and approaches to social integration in schools there is a need to understand the connection between language development and social integration as a basis for promoting appropriate policies and practices This volume explores the complex relationship between language education and the social integration of newcomer migrant children in England through an in depth analysis of case studies from schools in the East of England The authors set this evidence against the background of policy debates in the wider international setting including a critical discussion of assumptions underlying national narratives of mainstreaming and assimilation In the light of an absence of national guidelines for appropriate practice in schools the authors outline a model of inclusive pedagogy for English as an additional language EAL and a framework of home school communication to promote effective EAL parental engagement in schools

Changes in Attitudes to Immigrants in Britain, 1921-2021 Ben Braber, 2025-03-04 This book reviews changes in attitudes towards immigrants in Britain and the language that was used to put these feelings into words between 1921 and 2021 It analyses in what context attitudes were articulated and where they came from To determine what was specifically British it makes international comparisons It applies a historical and linguistic method for an analysis of so far relatively unused primary sources It also explores secondary resources and to provide context engages with the existing literature that deals with immigration but is not focused on attitudes or not always covers the entire period after 1921 and links post 1921 developments to what was set in motion before 1921 to sketch a long history that runs into the present The linguistic historical approach applied in this book brings it all together for the first time It discovers when and how attitudes to immigrants in Britain changed after 1921 where they originated and what language was used to voice these attitudes in
