Bujosa Vadell,2024-10-21 This volume examines how innovation and digital transformation impact the financial and accounting sectors Featuring selected contributions from the third Finance Accounting and Law in the Digital Age conference 2024 held at the University of Salamanca Spain the contributions of this book explore the development of digital finance and the complicated equation between financial stability the security of investors and financial consumers sustainable finance and support for innovation Climate change and the exponential growth of technology have built an explosion of financial innovation The digital revolution has recently reached the financial sector protected by a specific regulatory environment The volume describes how all areas of finance are now invested by new players who are transforming the banking and financial landscape to create a novel digital ecosystem ACCA F6 Taxation FA2015 BPP Learning Media,2016-02-01 BPP Learning Media s status as official ACCA Approved Learning Provider Content means our ACCA Study Texts and Practice Revision Kits are reviewed by the ACCA examining team BPP Learning Media products provide you with the exam focussed material you need for exam success The State of the Art in Student Engagement Carl Senior,2015-07-10 There is an extensive literature conducted from a range of theoretical perspectives and methodologies on the role of groups and student learning in higher education However here the concept of the group is heavily contested at a theoretical level but within higher education practice characterizing the group has tended to be clear cut Groups of students are often formed within the parameters of specific educational programs to address explicitly defined learning objectives These groups are often small scale and achieve tasks through cooperative or collaborative learning Cooperative learning involves students dividing roles and responsibilities between group members so learning becomes an independent process and outcome On the other hand collaborative learning involves students working together by developing shared meanings and knowledge to solve a task or problem From this perspective learning is conceptualized as both a social process and individual outcome That is collaborative learning may facilitate individual student conceptual understanding and hence lead to higher academic achievement The empirical evidence is encouraging as has been shown that students working collaboratively tend to achieve higher grades than students working independently However the above perspectives on student engagement assume that groups are formed within the confines of formal learning environments e g lecture theaters involve students on the same degree program have the explicit function of achieving a learning task and disband once this has been achieved However students may also use existing social networks such as friendship groups as a mechanism for learning which may occur outside of formal learning environments There is an extensive literature on the role and benefits of friendship groups on student learning within primary and secondary education but there is a distinct lack of research within higher education This ebook is innovative and ambitious and will highlight and consolidate the current understanding of the role that student based engagement behaviors may serve in effective pedagogy A unique aspect of this research topic will be the fact that scholars will also be welcome to submit articles that describe the efficacy of the full range of approaches that have been employed to facilitate student engagement across the sector
