Juvenescence A Cultural History Of Our Age:

Juvenescence Robert Pogue Harrison, 2014-11-21 How old are we those of us who belong to the postwar era By many measures both evolutionary and cultural we are older than ever But we are also getting startlingly youngeryounger in looks attire behavior mentality desires We belong Robert Harrison says to an age of juvenescence Juvenescence is about the ways in which the spirits of youth and age have coexisted and shaped each other both in individuals and culture from the time of antiquity to the present It is also a book that asks what it means for the future when youth gains the upper hand to the unprecedented degree it has today Our way of aging Harrison argues resembles thethe scientific concept of neotenythe retention of immature characteristics into adulthood We mature but with a still tenacious youthfulness driving drives toward innovation rather than reflection genius rather than wisdom At its best human maturity has its source in the youth it brings to fruition And yet our protracted youth Harrison suggests is a luxury that can be supported only by our elders and the institutions they build Although Harrison believes echoing Stephen Jay Gould that our genius as a species lies in our collective reluctance to grow up he argues that we are today in a phase of radical juvenalization that allows no space for the kind of wisdom that builds upon the past

Juvenescence Robert Pogue Harrison, 2014-11-21 A meditation on the human condition in an age when the old aspire to be young from the author of Forests The Shadow of Civilization Children s Literature How old are you The more thought you bring to bear on the question the harder it is to answer For we age simultaneously in different ways biologically psychologically socially And we age within the larger framework of a culture in the midst of a history that predates us and will outlast us Looked at through that lens many aspects of late modernity would suggest that we are older than ever but Robert Pogue Harrison argues that we are also getting startlingly younger in looks mentality and behavior We live he says in an age of juvenescence Like all of Robert Pogue Harrison s books Juvenescence ranges brilliantly across cultures and history tracing the ways that the spirits of youth and age have inflected each other from antiquity to the present Drawing on the scientific concept of neotony or the retention of juvenile characteristics through adulthood and extending it into the cultural realm Harrison argues that youth is essential for culture s innovative drive and flashes of genius At the same time however youth which Harrison sees as more protracted than ever is a luxury that requires the stability and wisdom of our elders and the institutions A heady deeply learned excursion rich with ideas and insights Juvenescence could only have been written by Robert Pogue Harrison No reader who has wondered at our culture s obsession with youth should miss it Harrison explores our culture s understanding of age youth and aging his book will provide mature wisdom indeed Publishers Weekly

Old Age in Art Larry Silver, 2025-05-13 A sweeping history of aging in European art across centuries Old Age in Art shows how elders have been depicted from ancient Greece and Rome to the present century The book explores portraits including self portraits and stories of older figures in religion myth and history focusing on the theme of wisdom versus folly Larry Silver also discusses the concept of old age within the Middle Ages and early modern periods The final chapter examines how renowned artists like Michelangelo Titian and Monet turned to experimental forms and new subjects in their later years This book provides a comprehensive overview of old age in European art history

The Drinking Curriculum Elizabeth Marshall,2024-01-02 A lively exploration into America s preoccupation with childhood innocence and its corruption In The Drinking Curriculum Elizabeth Marshall brings the taboo topic of alcohol and childhood into the limelight Marshall coins the term the drinking curriculum to describe how a paradoxical set of cultural lessons about childhood are fueled by adult anxieties and preoccupations By analyzing popular and widely accessible texts in visual culture temperance tracts cartoons film advertisements and public service announcements Marshall demonstrates how youth are targets of mixed messages about intoxication Those messages range from the overtly violent to the humorous the moralistic to the profane Offering a critical and at times irreverent analysis of dominant protectionist paradigms that sanctify childhood as implicitly innocent The Drinking Curriculum centers the graphic narratives our culture uses to teach about alcohol the roots of these pictorial tales in the nineteenth century and the discursive hangover we nurse into the twenty first

The Congregation in a Secular Age (Ministry in a Secular Age Book #3) Andrew Root,2021-01-19 Churches often realize they need to change But if they re not careful the way they change can hurt more than help In this culmination of his well received Ministry in a Secular Age trilogy leading practical theologian Andrew Root offers a new paradigm for understanding the congregation in contemporary ministry He articulates why congregations feel pressured by the speed of change in modern life and encourages an approach that doesn t fall into the negative traps of our secular age Living in late modernity means our lives are constantly accelerated and calls for change in the church often support this call to speed up Root asserts that the recent push toward innovation in churches has led to an acceleration of congregational life that strips the sacred out of time Many congregations are simply unable to keep up which leads to burnout and depression When things move too fast we feel alienated from life and the voice of a living God The Congregation in a Secular Age calls congregations to reimagine what change is and how to live into this future helping them move from relevance to resonance

Faith Formation in a Secular Age : Volume 1 (Ministry in a Secular Age) Andrew Root,2017-10-03 The loss or disaffiliation of young adults is a much discussed topic in churches today Many faith formation programs focus on keeping the young believing the youthful spirit will save the church But do these programs have more to do with an obsession with youthfulness than with helping young people encounter the living God Questioning the search for new or improved faith formation programs leading practical theologian Andrew Root offers an alternative take on the issue of youth drifting away from the church and articulates how faith can be formed in our secular age He offers a theology of faith constructed from a rich cultural conversation providing a deeper understanding of the phenomena of the nones and moralistic therapeutic deism Root helps readers understand why forming faith is so hard in our context and shows that what we have lost is not the ability to keep people connected to our churches but an imagination for how and where God could be present in their lives He considers what faith is and what steps we can take to move into it exploring a Pauline concept of faith as encounter with divine action

The Church after Innovation (Ministry in a Secular Age Book #5) Andrew Root, 2022-09-20 Churches and their leaders have innovation fever Innovation seems exciting a way to enliven tired institutions embrace creativity and be proactive and is a superstar of the business world But this focus on innovation may be caused by an obsession with contemporary relevance creativity and entrepreneurship that inflates the self lacks theological depth and promises burnout In this follow up to Churches and the Crisis of Decline leading practical theologian Andrew Root delves into the problems of innovation He explores where innovation and entrepreneurship came from shows how they break into church circles and counters the new imaginations like neoliberalism and technology that hold the church captive to modernity Root reveals the moral visions of the self that innovation and entrepreneurship deliver they are dependent on workers and consumers being obsessed with their selves which leads to significant faith formation issues This focus on innovation also causes us to think we need to be singularly unique instead of made alive in Christ Root offers a return to mysticism and the poetry of Meister Eckhart as a healthier spiritual alternative

Bulwarks of Unbelief Joseph Minich, 2023-04-12 How modernity creates atheists and what the church must do about it Millions of people in the West identify as atheists Christians often respond to this reality with proofs of God's existence as though rational arguments for atheism were the root cause of unbelief In Bulwarks of Unbelief Joseph Minich argues that a felt absence of God as experienced by the modern individual offers a better explanation for the rise in atheism Recent technological and cultural shifts in the modern West have produced a perceived challenge to God's existence As modern technoculture reshapes our awareness of reality and belief in the invisible it in turn amplifies God's apparent silence In this new context atheism is a natural result And absent of meaning from without we have turned within Christians cannot escape this aspect of modern life Minich argues that we must consciously and actively return to reality If we reattune ourselves to God's story reintegrate the whole person and reinhabit the world faith can thrive in this age of unbelief

Elderflora Jared Farmer, 2022-10-18 The epic story of the planet's oldest trees and the making of the modern world Humans have always revered long lived trees But as historian Jared Farmer reveals in Elderflora our veneration took a modern turn in the eighteenth century when naturalists embarked on a quest to locate and precisely date the oldest living things on earth The new science of tree time prompted travelers to visit ancient specimens and conservationists to protect sacred groves Exploitation accompanied sanctification as old growth forests succumbed to imperial expansion and the industrial revolution Taking us from Lebanon to New Zealand to California Farmer surveys the complex history of the world's oldest trees including voices of Indigenous peoples religious figures and contemporary scientists who study elderflora in crisis In a changing climate a long future is still possible Farmer shows but only if we give care to young things that might grow old Winner of the 2023 Jacques Barzun Prize in Cultural History

This Radical Land Daegan Miller, 2018-03-22 The American people sees itself advance across the wilderness draining swamps straightening rivers peopling the solitude and subduing nature wrote Alexis de Tocqueville in 1835 That s largely how we still think of nineteenth century America today a country expanding unstoppably bending the continent s natural bounty to the national will heedless of consequence A country of slavery and of Indian wars There s much truth in that vision But if you know where to look you can uncover a different history one of vibrant resistance one that s been mostly forgotten This Radical Land recovers that story Daegan Miller is our guide on a beautifully written revelatory trip across the continent during which we encounter radical thinkers settlers and artists who grounded their ideas of freedom justice and progress in the very landscapes around them even as the runaway engine of capitalism sought to steamroll everything in its path Here we meet Thoreau the expert surveyor drawing anticapitalist property maps We visit a black antislavery community in the Adirondack wilderness of upstate New York We discover how seemingly commercial photographs of the transcontinental railroad secretly sent subversive messages and how a band of utopian anarchists among California s sequoias imagined a greener freer future At every turn everyday radicals looked to landscape for the language of their dissent drawing crucial early links between the environment and social justice links we re still struggling to strengthen today Working in a tradition that stretches from Thoreau to Rebecca Solnit Miller offers nothing less than a new way of seeing the American past and of understanding what it can offer us for the present and the future

Aging Experiments João Paulo Guimarães,2023-08-04 The sustained expansion of the life span and the attendant demographic changes in the West have fuelled the production of cultural texts that explore alternative representations of aging and old age The contributors to this volume show how artists in science fiction fantasy and the avant garde develop visions of late life transformation improvisation and adaptation to new circumstances The studies particularly focus on perspectives on aging that challenge the predominant narratives of decline as well as fantasies of eternal youth as defined by neoliberal notions of health able bodiedness agency self improvement progress plasticity and productivity Dantologies William Franke,2023-09-26 This book comprises a searching philosophical meditation on the evolution of the humanities in recent decades taking Dante studies as an exemplary specimen The contemporary currents of theory have decisively impacted this field but Dante also has a strong relationship with theology The idea that theology teleology and logocentric rationalities are simply overcome and swept away by new theoretical approaches proves much more complex as the theory revolution is exposed in its crypto theological motives and origins The revolutionary agendas and methodologies of theoretical currents have ushered in all manner of minorities and postcolonial and gender studies But the exciting adventure they inaugurate shows up in quite a surprising light when brought to focus through the scholarly discipline of Dante studies as a terrain of dispute between traditional philology and postmodern theory On this terrain negative theology can play a peculiarly destabilizing but also a conciliatory role it is equally critical of all languages for a theological transcendence to which it nevertheless remains infinitely open Imagining Ageing Carmen Concilio,2018-10-04 What do literary texts tell us about growing old The essays in this volume introduce and explore representations of ageing and old age in canonical works of English and postcolonial literature The contributors examine texts by William Shakespeare Daniel Defoe Julian Barnes Thomas Kinsella Seamus Heaney J M Coetzee Alice Munro Witi Ihimaera and Patricia Grace and together with a medical study they suggest solutions to the challenges arising from the current demographic change brought about by ageing Western populations

Child Autonomy and Child Governance in Children's Literature Christopher Kelen, Bjorn Sundmark, 2016-11-18 This book explores representations of child autonomy and self governance in children s literature The idea of child rule and child realms is central to children s literature and childhood is frequently represented as a state of being with children seen as aliens in need of passports to Adultland and vice versa In a sense all children s literature depends on the idea that children are different separate and in command of their own imaginative spaces and places Although the idea of child rule is a persistent theme in discussions of children s literature or about children and childhood the metaphor itself has never been properly unpacked with critical reference to examples from those many texts that are contingent on the authority and or power of children Child governance and autonomy can be seen as natural or perverse it can be displayed as a threat or as a promise Accordingly the child rule motif can be seen in Robinsonades and horror films in philosophical treatises and in series fiction The representations of self ruling children are manifold and ambivalent and range from the idyllic to the nightmarish Contributors to this volume visit a range of texts in which children are in various ways empowered discussing whether childhood itself may be thought of as a nationality and what that may imply This collection shows how representations of child governance have been used for different ideological aesthetic and pedagogical reasons and will appeal to scholars of children s literature childhood studies and cultural studies

The New Midlife Self-Writing Emily O. Wittman, 2021-11-04 In The New Midlife Self Writing Wittman treats recent self writing by Rachel Cusk Roxane Gay Sarah Manguso and Maggie Nelson carefully situating these vital midlife works within the history of self writing She argues that they renew and redirect the autobiographical trajectories characteristic of earlier self writing by switching their orientation to face the future and by celebrating midlife as a growing season a time of Bildung In each chapter writer by writer she demonstrates how the midlife self writers in question trace confident and future oriented paths through the past rejecting triumphalism and complicating both identity and individualism just as they refine and redefine genres Exploring these midlife self writers as chroniclers of Generation X s midlife in particular Wittman coins the term digital absence to map their unique relationship to new forms of knowledge and knowledge gathering in an Information Age that they are both of and set apart from She theorizes that their works share a pedagogical style a style characterized by clarity exposition and classical rhetoric as well as a concern with the classroom offering a warrant for reading them in pedagogical terms in concert with traditional scholarly approaches Furthermore Wittman presents readers with a look ahead at the future of midlife self writing as well as self writing overall concluding that we might be looking at the scholarship of the future
