

SCIENCE SPARKS

Paper Spinners

Paper spinners are super easy to make and great fun for kids of all ages. All you need is paper, scissors and a paperclip. Drop the spinners from different heights and watch how they spin.

Materials!

Paper
Scissors
Paperclip

Method!

Cut the paper into a rectangle about 6 cm across and 15 cm down.

Imagine the rectangle is split into 3, cut straight up the one third line, leaving about 1.5cm at the top.

Cut down the 2/3 line leaving 1.5 cm at the bottom.

Attach the two ends together with a paperclip.

DISCUSS!

Make different sized spinners, which fall the fastest?

Extension Tasks...

- Drop the spinners from different heights.
- Add extra weight.

Issues and Challenges in Science Education Research Kim Chwee Daniel Tan, Mijung Kim, 2012-04-27 In contemporary society science constitutes a significant part of human life in that it impacts on how people experience and understand the world and themselves The rapid advances in science and technology newly established societal and cultural norms and values and changes in the climate and environment as well as the depletion of natural resources all greatly impact the lives of children and youths and hence their ways of learning viewing the world experiencing phenomena around them and interacting with others These changes challenge science educators to rethink the epistemology and pedagogy in science classrooms today as the practice of science education needs to be proactive and relevant to students and prepare them for life in the present and in the future Featuring contributions from highly experienced and celebrated science educators as well as research perspectives from Europe the USA Asia and Australia this book addresses theoretical and practical examples in science education that on the one hand plays a key role in our understanding of the world and yet paradoxically now acknowledges a growing number of uncertainties of knowledge about the world The material is in four sections that cover the learning and teaching of science from science literacy to multiple representations science teacher education the use of innovations and new technologies in science teaching and learning and science learning in informal settings including outdoor environmental learning activities Acknowledging the issues and challenges in science education this book hopes to generate collaborative discussions among scholars researchers and educators to develop critical and creative ways of science teaching to improve and enrich the lives of our children and youths Making Progress in Primary Science Wynne Harlen, 2003 This text follows a module structure focuses on the learning of science as an investigative process through which pupils develop an understanding of ideas Modules include building on childrens own ideas how to ask answer questions managing practical work in the classroom cross curricular links Challenges in Primary Science David Coates, Helen Wilson, 2003 First Published in 2003 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company

Adopting the Melody of Phrase: An Emotional Symphony within Ksscience Paper Spinners

In some sort of consumed by displays and the ceaseless chatter of instant interaction, the melodic splendor and mental symphony produced by the written word usually disappear in to the backdrop, eclipsed by the relentless noise and disruptions that permeate our lives. But, set within the pages of Ksscience Paper Spinners an enchanting literary treasure filled with natural thoughts, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by an elegant composer of language, this captivating masterpiece conducts readers on a psychological trip, skillfully unraveling the hidden melodies and profound impact resonating within each cautiously constructed phrase. Within the depths of this moving review, we can investigate the book is main harmonies, analyze its enthralling publishing fashion, and surrender ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
