Disorder and the Disinformation Society Jonathan Paul Marshall, James Goodman, Didar Zowghi, Francesca da Rimini, 2015-04-17 This book is the first general social analysis that seriously considers the daily experience of information disruption and software failure within contemporary Western society Through an investigation of informationalism defined as a contemporary form of capitalism it describes the social processes producing informational disorder While most social theory sees disorder as secondary pathological or uninteresting this book takes disordering processes as central to social life The book engages with theories of information society which privilege information order offering a strong counterpoint centred on disinformation Disorder and the Disinformation Society offers a practical agenda arguing that difficulties in producing software are both inherent to the process of developing software and in the social dynamics of informationalism It outlines the dynamics of software failure as they impinge on information workers and on daily life explores why computerized finance has become inherently self disruptive asks how digital enclosure and intellectual property create conflicts over cultural creativity and disrupt informational accuracy and scholarship and reveals how social media can extend but also distort the development of social movements

The Brickbuilder ,1902 Hello World Hannah Fry, 2018-09-18 Shortlisted for the 2018 Baillie Gifford Prize and the 2018 Royal Society Investment Science Book Prize A beautifully accessible guide One of the best books yet written on data and algorithms Times UK If you were accused of a crime who would you rather decide your sentence a mathematically consistent algorithm incapable of empathy or a compassionate human judge prone to bias and error What if you want to buy a driverless car and must choose between one programmed to save as many lives as possible and another that prioritizes the lives of its own passengers And would you agree to share your family's full medical history if you were told that it would help researchers find a cure for cancer These are just some of the dilemmas that we are beginning to face as we approach the age of the algorithm when it feels as if the machines reign supreme Already these lines of code are telling us what to watch where to go whom to date and even whom to send to jail But as we rely on algorithms to automate big important decisions in crime justice healthcare transportation and money they raise questions about what we want our world to look like What matters most Helping doctors with diagnosis or preserving privacy Protecting victims of crime or preventing innocent people being falsely accused Hello World takes us on a tour through the good the bad and the downright ugly of the algorithms that surround us on a daily basis Mathematician Hannah Fry reveals their inner workings showing us how algorithms are written and implemented and demonstrates the ways in which human bias can literally be written into the code By weaving in relatable real world stories with accessible explanations of the underlying mathematics that power algorithms Hello World helps us to determine their power expose their limitations and examine whether they really are improvement on the human systems they replace Scientific and Technical Aerospace Reports ,1990 14-19 diplomas Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education and Skills Committee,2007-05-17 In October 2004 the Tomlinson report downloadable at <http://www.dfes.gov.uk/14-19/documents/FinalReport.pdf> set out wide ranging proposals for changes to the curriculum and examination arrangements for the education of 14 to 19 year olds In February 2005 the Government published its response in the form of a White Paper Cm 6476 ISBN 9780101647625 detailing a 10 year reform programme including the introduction of 14 new awards originally called vocational Diplomas thus rejecting the overarching Diploma award recommended in the Tomlinson report Whilst stating its belief that the proposed changes would have been better structured and more coherent had Tomlinson's proposals been adopted the Committee's report examines the design development and implementation of the Government's Diplomas scheme
