studies with anthropology and ethnography It shows how ethnographic narratives can represent a compelling point of departure for world literary explorations The volume compares the travel writing and fiction of Robert Louis Stevenson and Rudyard Kipling as colonial ethnographic narratives the militant writings of Carlo Levi and Mahasweta Devi and the travelogues and ethnographic fiction of Amitav Ghosh and the literary journalism of Frank Westerman Each of these readings focuses on a set of social political and historical circumstances and relies on a dialogue with anthropological theory and history This book demonstrates how imperialism colonialism capitalism and ecology are interdependent and contributes to methodological debates within both anthropology and world literary studies Hard to Imagine Thomas Waugh,1996 Waugh identifies four primary aspects of homoerotic photography and film the artistic the commercial the illicit and the politico scientific tracing their development against a background of advances in visual technology This comprehensive work explores a vast eclectic tradition in its totality analyzing the visual imagery in addition to its production circulation and consumption Sex, Drugs and Creativity Dustin Kahoud,Danielle Knafo,2018-06-19 In Sex Drugs and Creativity The Search for Magic in a Disenchanted World Kahoud and Knafo take a close look at omnipotent fantasies in three domains sex drugs and creativity They demonstrate how these fantasies emerge and how artists draw on them both to create and destroy sometimes simultaneously and how understanding this can help psychoanalysts work more effectively with these individuals Using the personal statements of influential artists and entertainers in addition to clinical material the authors examine the omnipotence of self destruction as it contends with that of creative artists The authors argue that creative artists use omnipotent fantasies to imagine the world differently this enables them to produce their art but also leaves these artists vulnerable to addiction Chapters devoted to Stephen King and Anne Sexton demonstrate the ways these authors used drugs and alcohol to fuel imagination and inspire creative output while simultaneously doing harm to themselves A detailed case study also demonstrates successful clinical work with a creative substance user Sex Drugs and Creativity will appeal to anyone interested in the links between creativity and substance use and will be of great use to psychoanalysts and mental health practitioners working with these challenging clients
