Public Mood Kirsten Forkert, 2017-09-20 Austerity as Public Mood explores how politicians and the media mobilise nostalgic and socially conservative ideas of work and community in order to justify cuts to public services and create divisions between the deserving and undeserving It examines the powerful appeal of these concepts as part of a wider public mood marked by guilt nostalgia and resentment particularly around the inequalities produced by global capitalism and changes to the nature of work In doing so the book engages with urgent questions about the contemporary political climate Focusing on the UK it challenges accounts of neoliberalism which frame it as primarily an individualising force and localist definitions of community as mitigating its damaging effects Finally it explores how resistance to austerity can challenge these tendencies by offering a politics of solidarity and hope and a forum for experimentation with alternative forms of collectivity Ford

Interests, Individual Attitudes Michael J Donnelly, 2021-07-10 What drives support for or opposition to redistributive taxation and spending Why is ethnic diversity associated with inequality and a lack of redistribution This book argues that many individuals recognizing that they live in a world of uncertainty use the groups of which they are a member as a heuristic to understand how welfare states are likely to impact them This leads to reduced support for redistribution among the wealthy whose disproportionate influence over policy in turn leads to less redistribution Group Interests Individual Attitudes develops the argument with a series of empirical implications which are then tested using data from a variety of sources It examines regional and ethnic politics in the United Kingdom Germany Slovakia Canada and Italy using a combination of qualitative and quantitative evidence existing and new surveys and observational and experimental methods The evidence is largely consistent with a heuristic theory allowing us to see group politics in a new light Ford Mondeo A.
