Gargoyle The Andrew Davidson:

The Gargoyle Andrew Davidson, 2009-08-04 A New York Times Bestseller The Gargoyle the mesmerizing story of one man's descent into personal hell and his quest for salvation On a dark road in the middle of the night a car plunges into a ravine The driver survives the crash but his injuries confine him to a hospital burn unit There the mysterious Marianne Engel a sculptress of grotesques enters his life She insists they were lovers in medieval Germany when he was a mercenary and she was a scribe in the monastery of Engelthal As she spins the story of their past lives together the man's disbelief falters soon even the impossible can no longer be dismissed

The Gargoyle Andrew Davidson, 2009-06-23 An extraordinary debut novel of love that survives the fires of hell and transcends the boundaries of time On a burn ward a man lies between living and dying so disfigured that no one from his past life would even recognize him His only comfort comes from imagining various inventive ways to end his misery Then a woman named Marianne Engel walks into his hospital room a wild haired schizophrenic sculptress on the lam from the psych ward upstairs who insists that she knows him that she has known him in fact for seven hundred years She remembers vividly when they met in another hospital ward at a convent in medieval Germany when she was a nun and he was a wounded mercenary left to die If he has forgotten this he is not to worry she will prove it to him And so Marianne Engel begins to tell him their story carving away his disbelief and slowly drawing him into the orbit and power of a word he'd never uttered love

Disturbed Andromeda Oleastro, 2012-12-29 Permit me to share with you the shape and size of my doom the phony facade I have crafted my guilt my despair my hesitation to grasp and my need to grasp a hint of happiness and normalcy Let me begin with the usual shy but strong introduction I have memorized for the endless string of therapists psychiatrists and friends I have made in Residential

Treatment and group therapy Hello My name is Jessica and I have an eating disorder For thirteen years Jessica managed to wear the mask of deceit fooling family and friends into believing she was a normal child a normal teenager a normal young adult Her bingeing purging and fasting habits were hidden behind a busy schedule and four years spent living away from home for the duration of her college career She kept her atrocious body image secret because who the hell wanted to listen to a teenager and young adult bitch and moan about how she felt about her body Self mutilation was a sweet release from the pain of living as a tortured soul so wrapped up in the ideals of the female body but insomnia and the roller coaster episodes of bipolar II disorder brought out the worst in her and introduced her to suicidal thoughts which ultimately led her to a suicide attempt at eighteen years old While she thought her finger had only teased the flame her entire being had been thrown into the fire From mid September to mid October of 2009 Jessica had been introduced the hardest task and rite of passage she had ever faced she had been admitted to Residential Treatment She had only herself to blame for turning herself into what she had become And although she gave it her all to resist treatment and recovery there was only one thing she so desired and that was some sense of normalcy But she has been worn embittered and welcomed into the morbid nature of the world and on cold days it was pretty cozy living in her disturbing little universe An eating disorder is a demon Because it haunts you And you believe in it and you think it is normal But it isn't And people will tell you that these things you are seeing and feeling aren't normal These things you believe in are torturing you sending you to madness and they slowly kill you And when the heart of your sanity stops beating this demon drags you straight to Hell and nothing can save you You should have exorcised that demon Or at least repented because once you go in as deep as I have there is nothing in this world that will keep you from falling deeper

An Insider's Guide to Publishing David Comfort, 2013-11-14 Perseverance is much more important than talent Because so many talented people fall by the wayside James Michener The history of writing is full of authors striving to succeed in a hyper competitive publishing world contending with agents editors publishers critics and sometimes the greatest challenge of all overnight success For all of the extraordinary changes that have recently taken place however there are a few things that remain the same Getting published still requires persistence preparation and smarts as well as an understanding of how the business works where it's been and where it's going An Insider's Guide to Publishing pulls back the industry curtain for millions of published and aspiring authors revealing Hemingway's famous feuds Poe's raving madness Capote's vengeful wit and much more With clever insights and dark humor to spare David Comfort a thirty year veteran of the publishing trenches explores the achievements and failures of literary masters and editorial workaholics to show readers how they too can Use their creativity and composure to overcome publishing pitfalls Work with agents editors publishers and critics like a pro Deal with rejection and success while avoiding the madhouse Navigate the pros and cons of both traditional and self publishing An Insider's Guide to Publishing shares the wicked wit and wisdom of some of the craziest and most ambitious authors and editors of all time proving that even the talented need luck pluck persistence and the inside scoop on this rapidly changing industry in order to succeed

Dark Pool of Light, Volume Three Richard Grossinger, 2012-12-18 In books like Embyogenesis and Embryos Galaxies and Sentient Beings author Richard Grossinger brought together the subjects of biological embryology and the esoteric process of human consciousness becoming embodied The embryo is the universe writing itself on its own body In Dark Pool of Light his three volume series of books discussing the nature of reality and consciousness Grossinger weaves neuroscience based behaviorism and the phenomenology of being and reality together with psychological and psychospiritual views of that single thing which is most difficult to understand or vindicate our own existence In 2008 Grossinger began studying with noted psychic teacher John Friedlander who helped him refine his vision of cerebral and somatic awareness to still subtler levels Dark Pool of Light began unnamed in the journals of my psychic work with John Friedlander says Grossinger not so much a record of actual practices as insights from them and extensions out of them This expansive inquiry into the nature of consciousness ends with this third volume in the series The Crisis and Future of Consciousness Grossinger addresses the perennial question of evil and shares the author s hopes and fears for the future of humanity While wisdom gleaned from such seemingly disparate sources as science philosophy religion and spirituality might appear very very different things Grossinger nevertheless finds their meeting place in subjective lived experience

The Richard & Judy Book Club Reader Dr Helen Cousins, Dr Jenni Ramone, 2013-05-28 In January 2004 daytime television presenters Richard Madeley and Judy Finnigan launched their book club and sparked debate about the way people in Britain from the general reader to publishers to the literati thought about books and reading The Richard Judy Book Club Reader brings together historians of the book literature scholars and specialists in media and cultural studies to examine the effect of the club on reading practices and the publishing and promotion of books Beginning with an analysis of the book club s history and its ongoing development in relation to other reading groups worldwide including Oprah s the editors consider issues of book marketing and genre Further chapters explore the effects of the mass broadcast celebrity book club on society literature and its marketing and popular culture Contributors ask how readers discuss books judge value and make choices The collection addresses questions of authorship authority and canon in texts connected by theme or genre including the postcolonial exotic disability and representations of the body food books and domesticity In addition book club author Andrew Smith shares his experiences in a fascinating interview
