on true events from the bestselling author of The Chilbury Ladies Choir After renowned fashion designer Cressida Westcott loses both her home and her design house in the London Blitz she has nowhere to go but the family manor house she fled decades ago Praying that her niece and nephew will be more hospitable than her brother had been she arrives with nothing but the clothes she stands in at a loss as to how to rebuild her business while staying in a quaint country village Her niece Violet Westcott is thrilled that her famous aunt is coming to stay the village has been interminably dull with all the men off fighting But just as Cressida arrives so does Violet's conscription letter It couldn't have come at a worse time how will she ever find a suitably aristocratic husband if she has to spend her days wearing a frumpy uniform and doing war work Meanwhile the local vicar's daughter Grace Carlisle is trying in vain to repair her mother's gown her only chance of a white wedding When Cressida Westcott appears at the local Sewing Circle meeting Grace asks for her help but Cressida has much more to teach the ladies than just simple sewing skills Before long Cressida's spirit and ambition galvanizes the village group into action and they find themselves mending wedding dresses not only for local brides but for brides across the country And as the women dedicate themselves to helping others celebrate love they might even manage to find it for themselves

Women At War 1914-91: Voices of the Twentieth Century Nigel Fountain, 2014-06-17 Women at War captures the reality of women at war in their own words examining the enormously important part that women played in the major wars of the twentieth century Catching Falling Stars Karen McCombie, 2015-06-04 It's 1940 Gloria and her brother have been evacuated to the countryside to get away from the dangers of the Blitz in London Their new home isn't as friendly as they'd hoped But Gloria quickly learns that nothing is ever as it seems in this strange new place A Day with Picasso Billy Kluver, 1999-02-18 In 1978 while collecting documentary photographs of the artists' community in Montparnasse from the first decades of the century Billy Klver discovered that some previously unassociated photographs fell into significant groupings One group in particular showing Picasso Max Jacob Moise Kisling Modigliani and others at the Caf de la Rotonde and on Boulevard du Montparnasse all seemed to have been taken on the same day The people were wearing the same clothes in each shot and had the same accessories Their ties were knotted the same way and their collars had the same wrinkles A total of twenty-four photographs four rolls of film with six photographs each were eventually found With the challenge of identifying the date photographer and circumstances Klver embarked on an inquiry that would illuminate the minute texture of that time and place Biographical research into the subjects' lives led Klver to focus on the summer of 1916 as the likely time the photos were taken He then measured buildings and plotted angles and lengths of shadows in the photographs to narrow the time frame to a spread of three weeks Further investigation eventually allowed Klver to identify the photographer as Jean Cocteau and to determine the day that Cocteau had taken the photographs August 12 1916 A computer printout of the sun's positions on that date obtained from the Bureau des Longitudes together with the length of the shadows enabled Klver to calculate the time of day of each photograph and thus to put them in proper sequence In a tour de force of art historical research Kl ver then reconstructed a scenario of the events of the four hours depicted in the photographs With evocative attention to detail noting when Picasso is no longer carrying an envelope or Max Jacob has acquired a decoration in his lapel Kl ver recreates a single afternoon in the lives of Picasso and friends a group of remarkable people in early twentieth century Paris Besides the central portfolio of photographs by Cocteau the book contains additional photographs and drawings short biographies of all the subjects and a historical section on the events and activities in the Paris art world at the time

Faces of the Home Front, 1939-1945 Neil R. Storey, Fiona Kay, 2022-01-31 Faces of the Home Front presents a fascinating insight into the people wartime organisations events life and work on the British Home Front during the Second World War This is the story of ordinary people in extraordinary times told through an array of previously unpublished rare photographs illustrations and ephemera If you have wondered how Air Raid Wardens Ambulance crews Home Guard Firemen Special Constables Women s Voluntary Service and the Women s Land Army were recruited and trained how they were uniformed and what their duties entailed in wartime were this is the book for you Drawing on the authors own extensive archives of original photographs training manuals documents decades of research and interviews with those who were there there are stories of well known events such as the Blitz on London and many other often lesser known events and incidents around the country some deeply moving some harrowing and some that show how the kindness and selfless bravery of people that helped get Britain through its darkest hours The combination of images and stories vividly bring to life the experiences of people in cities towns and countryside in wartime as they experienced evacuation rationing the black out and air raids touched the lives of everyone This volume is a valuable addition to the bookshelf of any family historian collector re enactor
