A Merchant Marine's Life, Loves and Law Bengt C. Nyman, PHD,2021-04-21 A Merchant Marine s Life Loves and Law By Bengt C Nyman PHD When Bengt was sixteen years old his mother finally agreed to sign the authorization for him to join the Merchant Marine Bengt was hired as a cook sailor on the ship M S Tuna a 200 ton Swedish coastal runner where he learned the rules and regulations of being a sailor For the next four years he sailed the seven seas with M S Kirribilli M S Sabang and M S Parrakoola through dangerous seas hostile shipmates and even an engagement with a beautiful Japanese girl During some home visits between the ships Bengt needed to protect his mother from her alcoholic ex husband and was in a serious car accident Bengt s mandatory military service was in the Swedish Navy After eighteen months he applied and was accepted to the United Nations Peacekeeping Forces and was assigned to the island of Cyprus in the Mediterranean Sea This was a thrilling time when the Greek armada was on its way to attack the island of Cyprus After the UN Bengt became a family man in Sweden He purchased a tractor trailer business that caused him financial difficulties because of a tax increase of 1000% that was added on his business He filed bankruptcy and then went on to fulfill his dream to become an attorney He moved to the United States married his wife Diane and became a U S citizen 1991 He continued his law practice in the U S helping European clients while continuing to educate himself He became a Florida Supreme Court mediator until he had to discontinue the practice because of medical reasons The New York Times Index ,1997

Representing the Holocaust in Children's Literature Lydia Kokkola,2013-10-15 Writing about the Holocaust and writing for young readers evoke two quite separate sets of concerns which are not always mutually compatible The first half of Representing the Holocaust focuses on how literary material can present historically verifiable material The second half examines how such materials will be perceived by young readers whether they will be able to determine any boundaries between fictionality and factuality and what motivates young readers to keep reading The work concludes by placing the study in the context of Holocaust education

101 Best Web Sites for Kids Elizabeth Lewis,2000 Wonder Vlad P. Glaveanu,2020-06-25 This book is dedicated to wonder and wondering mundane phenomena that despite their great value for education and other spheres of human experience often go unnoticed both inside and outside the classroom Praised as the origin of philosophy in ancient times the concern for understanding and educating wonder has been present throughout history It is not only the case that this basic psychological process opens our everyday experience to what is possible what lies beyond the here and now but does so with extraordinary consequences Wonder transforms our experience of the world from early childhood onwards It is ever present in children s play and games it offers constant opportunities for learning and it fuels our creativity And yet we know little about this phenomenon its biological psychological social and cultural underpinning and even less about how to foster it and harness its benefits in education This book fills this gap and gives a scientific yet accessible account of wondering It proposes a new way of understanding wonder while at the same time offering practical tools for cultivating wonder within ourselves our interpersonal relations and within educational practice The Writer's Market ,1998 1999 Writer's Market
