Houghton Mifflin First Grade Sight Words:

On the Miss Middleton Effect Geraldine E. Rodgers, 2022-07-20 Miss Middleton's scores are indeed a frozen moment in time which prove the existence in 1913 and 1914 of automatic phonic decoding of print as opposed to conscious psycholinguistic decoding of print. The scores also prove that automatic decoding does result from the phonic sound method to teach reading since that is how Miss Middleton's children learned to read. However, the reading experts in 1914 and after must have misinterpreted scores like Miss Middleton's wildly fluctuating scores which obviously were the result of freely wandering attention by concluding instead that the scores had proved that the sound method had failed. The truth is that such low reading comprehension scores on silent reading comprehension tests for phonic trained classes suggest the presence of healthy automatic conditioned reflexes in reading. Such scores may result from the Miss Middleton Effect of voluntarily wandering attention while reading automatically. Her children simply did not bother to pay attention to what they were reading automatically but could have done so if they felt like it. Yet the inferior deaf mute sight word method forces children's attention to meaning or they cannot read at all. They may therefore score higher on simple reading comprehension tests but far far worse on spelling and on reading correctly the actual words on the page. Learnability of Basic Sight Words David Joseph Gustafson, 1973 I Can Read It All by Myself Paul V. Allen, 2021-05-28 In the late 1950s Ted Geisel took on the challenge of creating a book using only 250 unique first grade words something that aspiring readers would have both the ability and the desire to read. The result was an unlikely children's classic The Cat in the Hat. But Geisel didn't stop there. Using The Cat in the Hat as a template he teamed with Helen Geisel and Phyllis Cerf to create Beginner Books a whole new category of readers that combined research based literacy practices with the logical insanity of Dr. Seuss. The books were an enormous success giving the world such authors and illustrators as P. D. Eastman, Roy McKie and Stan and Jan Berenstain and beloved bestsellers such as Are You My Mother? Go Dog Go Put Me in the Zoo and Green Eggs and Ham. The story of Beginner Books and Ted Geisel's role as president, policymaker and editor of the line for thirty years has been told briefly in various biographies of Dr. Seuss but I Can Read It All by Myself: The Beginner Books Story presents it in full detail for the first time. Drawn from archival research and dozens of brand new interviews I Can Read It All by Myself explores the origins, philosophies and operations of Beginner Books from The Cat in the Hat in 1957 to 2019's A Skunk in My Bunk and reveals the often fascinating lives of the writers and illustrators who created them. The Texts in Elementary Classrooms James V. Hoffman, Diane Lemonnier Schallert, 2004-09-22 This volume explores a variety of topics including texts in the teaching and learning of reading, word identification and text characteristics, choosing fiction to support young children's literacy development, electronic text in the classroom and issues surrounding text selection.
