Human Learning To Live In Modern Times:

Human Chris Matakas, 2014-12-10 In today's society where our distractions are only rivaled by our affinity toward them modern man is in need of a paradigm shift This book is that shift With an uncanny ability to make accessible the teachings of old Chris Matakas has shed light on the perils facing each of us in today's world and done so in a pleasurable digestible experience From transcending the illusion of self to serving our fellow man the reader is taken on a journey in self exploration toward a more actualized life Whether a beginner or life long student of philosophy this book serves each of its readers as an alternative manual to the human experience All of the proceeds from this book will be donated to Feeding

America Wikiworld Juha Suoranta, Tere Vadén, 2009-11-06 Wikiworld explores a revolution in the world of education The way we learn is changing institutionalised learning is transforming into new forms of critical learning and open collaboration This book offers a historical and political framework to think about the future of learning and educational media The authors provide an overview of the use of new technologies and learning practices and assess how the changing nature of education can lead to a more socially just future At the same time they place their analysis of education within a wider social and economic framework of contemporary capitalism Moonpies, Fireflies, Some Twisted Dreams, Some Truth, and

Some Lies: Book One of Two James (Jim) Linn, 2023-08-22 About the Book In this memoir and bibliography combined with philosophy and short stories James Jim Linn has collected twelve years of quotes from others and how they spoke to him his deep thoughts some poetry and thought provoking memes Linn also shares his observations about life and human nature About the Author James Jim Linn played and managed softball teams both men's and co-ed for forty seven years He now enjoys playing pickleball five days a week In his free time Linn likes to spend time with his family and friends travel to Europe and different cities in the US and learn new things Learning to Live Together David A. Hamburg, Beatrix A.

Hamburg, 2004 With a view to deepening our understanding of sources of hatred and prejudice this book uses a developmental and evolutionary perspective to explore and explain the process by which our beliefs are conveyed to the youngest members of society Discussing the psychological obstacles to peaceful relations between groups the authors focus on the developmental processes by which we can work to diminish ethnocentrism prejudice and hatred which children learn from a very early age Until now scholarship and practice in international relations have gravely neglected crucial psychological aspects of these terrible problems and have not yet explored the educational opportunities related to them Addressing these promising lines of inquiry and innovation this book fosters a more humane and less violent development in childhood and adolescence Educators religious leaders developmental and social psychologists will find this a valuable resource as will a socially concerned segment of the public who are looking for practical ways to work for peace Stop

Painful Parenting: Tales from Our Side of the Mat Paul Prendergast, Carol Davis, LCSW, 2017-01-30 When I opened my first karate school twenty six years ago I would never have thought I would be dealing with parents who grew marijuana had fist fights in my lobby or moms who cheated on their husbands with other moms I never thought I'd deal with a mom so drunk she pissed her pants while waiting to pick up her child or a boy who drew pictures with his own poo on the walls of my bathroom My instructor never taught me how to defend myself against these types of attackers It is my hope that by reading this book people will be more conscience of their words and actions when in the presence of their children or other people's children People that become parents guardians coaches teachers mentors or who influence children will become more aware how important their role is Parents must understand if they want to see a change in their child they must be the change they want to see
