1.

Mam: Well, I found the holiday of my dreams!

Woman: Oh no, not another one of your crazy trips.

Mam: This one isn't crazy, it's educational. You can go with the The Great Canadian Adventure Company in a small research boat underwater to study the wreckage of the Titanic up close and personal!

Woman: Wow, that sounds exciting! You should go for it then.

Mam: There's only one problem...

Woman: What's that?

Mam: It costs $40,000 to participate!

2.

Woman: Are you excited about flying to Australia?

Mam: Of course. I've never been on a plane before.

Woman: Are you scared?

Mam: Not at all. I'm really looking forward to it.

Woman: It'll be a long flight to Sydney. That will be a bit boring. Do you have any stops?

Mam: Yes we stop in Dubai for a few hours.

Woman: Nice. You can do some shopping in the airport while you're waiting.

3.

Mam: That's right, I need to change the date of the ticket. I need to be home earlier than the 25th. Is it possible to return on the 23rd? (pause) Hmm... that's too bad. I suppose I could do the 30th, if I can change the arrival date to the 15th. (pause) Really? Great, as long as I'm there five days, it doesn't really matter when I get there or leave. I still get the window seat, right?

4.

Mam: I used the finger scanner at the supermarket the other day, it's really cool.

Woman: I read about those. They've been around for a while now. I still don't like the idea of a machine scanning your fingerprint. It's like someone is following your every move.

Mam: But it's so convenient! It knows who you are, and takes the money right from your bank account. You don't need to carry money or anything with you ever again!

Woman: But isn't it dangerous?

Mam: Of course not. It's easier for someone to steal your credit card than your fingerprint.

Traveller accommodation to the attention of the world's media. However, as the furore surrounding the eviction has died down, the very pressing issues of accommodation, need, inequality of access to education, healthcare and employment and exclusion from British and European society is still very much evident. This topical book examines and debates a range of themes facing Gypsies and Travellers in British society including health, social policy, employment and education. It also looks at the dilemmas faced in representing disadvantaged minority groups in media and political discourse, theories on power, control and justice and the impact of European initiatives on inclusion. Gypsies and Travellers' Empowerment and inclusion in British society will be of interest to students, academics, policy makers, practitioners, those working in the media, police, education and health services and of course to Gypsies and Travellers themselves.

Traveller Education Chris Tyler, 2005

Traveller pupils are still the most underachieving ethnic and cultural minority group. The issues surrounding their low access, attainment and attendance in schools have been rehearsed but the reports and research have merely posed questions. This book identifies where good practice has been achieved and how and describes examples of successful work with traveller pupils in and around the classroom. It draws on current professionalism and effectiveness in Traveller Education so that practitioners will be able to adapt proven approaches. The contributors examine education and education welfare fields across all sectors of statutory provision and consider matters ranging from core access issues to the exciting possibilities of new technologies. This collection is aimed at those working with these minority ethnic communities as providers, trainers or in related professional fields.
