Liberating Faith Roger S. Gottlieb, 2003 Table of contents      Eco-theology Celia Deane-Drummond, 2008 Concern for the environment has developed and intensified over the last few decades to the point where it now dominates much of our contemporary political landscape and culture In Eco Theology Celia Deane Drummond offers a comprehensive resource book for this burgeoning field of enquiry that highlights and seeks to evaluate the merits or otherwise of contemporary eco theologies She introduces the reader to critical debates in eco theology tracing trends from around the globe and key theological responses and encourages reflection and analysis through further reading sections at the end of each chapter and questions for discussion Publisher      Religion Seeking Justice and Peace (Penerbit USM) Chandra Muzaffar, 2010 Religion Seeking Justice and Peace not only highlights the values that the different religions share in their pursuit of justice and peace but also provides concrete examples of how individuals and institutions from different religious backgrounds have worked for justice and peace throughout history The book also exposes the danger of religious extremism religious exclusivism and other such negative traits to the struggle for justice and peace It takes cognisance of the impact of the larger environment upon religious ideals and at the same time makes a plea for the application of universal values and principles embodied in the various religions to politics Economics culture and society This is particularly important some of the contributors argue at a time like this when humanity is confronted with multiple global crises      Burning Center, Porous Borders Eleazar S. Fernandez, 2011-10-17 Burning Center Porous Borders articulates what the church is and is called to be about in the world a world now globalized to the point that the local is lived globally and the global is lived locally The church must respond creatively and prophetically to the challenges economic disparity war and terrorism diaspora ecological threat health crisis religious diversity and so on posed by our highly globalized world It can do so only if the church's spiritual center burns mightily Conversely it can burn mightily in the spirit of Christ only if its borders are porous and allows the fresh air spirit of change to blow in and out While there is much rhetoric about change the most common response to change is to continue doing business as usual This is particularly the case in the face of perceived global threats In spite of the hoopla and euphoria of the global village walls of division and exclusion are rising hearts are constricting and moral imagination shrinking In response to this context Burning Center Porous Borders proposes alternative ways or images of being a church burning center and porous borders wall buster and bridge builder translocal glocal mending healer radical hospitality community of the earth spirit household of life abundant dialogians of life and community of hope In Burning Center Porous Borders congregational vitality and progressive praxis kiss and embrace      Mad Studies Reader Bradley Lewis, Alisha Ali, Jazmine Russell, 2024-09-30 The last few years have brought increased writings from activists artists scholars and concerned clinicians that cast a critical and constructive eye on psychiatry mental health care and the cultural relations of mental difference With particular focus on accounts of lived experience and readings that cover issues of epistemic and social injustice in mental health discourse the Mad Studies Reader brings together voices that advance anti sanist approaches to scholarship practice art and activism in this realm Beyond offering a theoretical and historical overview of mad studies this Reader draws on the perspectives voices and experiences of artists mad pride activists humanities and social science scholars and critical clinicians to explore the complexity of mental life and mental difference Voices from these groups confront and challenge standard approaches to mental difference They advance new structures of meaning and practice that are inclusive of those who have been systematically subjugated and promote anti sanist approaches to counter inequalities prejudices and discrimination Confronting modes of psychological oppression and the power of a few to interpret and define difference for so many the Mad Studies Reader asks the critical question of how these approaches may be reconsidered resisted and reclaimed This collection will be of interest to mental health clinicians students and scholars of the arts humanities and social sciences and anyone who has been affected by mental difference directly or indirectly who is curious to explore new perspectives

Connecting Jesus to Social Justice Thomas Hughson, 2013-10-10 Many Christians see the societal dimension of their faith as a matter of biblical and social ethics Returning to classical Christology Connecting Jesus to Social Justice explores messianic potential in the Council of Chalcedon on the divine identity of Christ Who Jesus is makes all the difference to Christian entrance into the public sphere on behalf of a just society The Messiah s divinity bears on social mission directed toward a just social order Theological appropriation of Chalcedon overcomes a gap between the professing the Creed and interpreting social existence in light of a just social order Connecting Jesus to Social Justice argues a doctrinally traditional orthodox basis for Christian participation in the public sphere on behalf of social justice The book addresses a situation internal to churches in the U S from a Catholic perspective yet not without analogies in other churches and Christian movements Applying traditional Christology to contemporary social mission solidifies an answer to adversarial queries on the appropriateness of a social agenda Implications in the classical Christology also confirm churches and discipleship in commitment to social justice promoted through a subaltern counter public and then by word and deed in the public sphere

Inherited Land Whitney A. Bauman, Richard R. Bohannon II, Kevin J. O'Brien, 2011-08-04 Religion and ecology has arrived What was once a niche interest for a few academics concerned with environmental issues and a few environmentalists interested in religion has become an established academic field with classic texts graduate programs regular meetings at academic conferences and growing interest from other academics and the mass media Theologians ethicists sociologists and other scholars are engaged in a broad dialogue about the ways religious studies can help understand and address environmental problems including the sorts of methodological terminological and substantive debates that characterize any academic discourse This book recognizes the field that has taken shape reflects on the ways it is changing and anticipates its development in the future The essays offer analyses and reflections from emerging scholars of religion and ecology each addressing her or his own specialty in light of two questions 1 What have we inherited from the work that has come before us and 2 What inquiries concerns and conversation partners should be central to the next generation of scholarship The aim of this volume is not to lay out a single and clear path forward for the field Rather the authors critically reflect on the field from within outline some of the major issues we face in the academy and offer perspectives that will nurture continued dialogue

A Theology of the Drug War William A. Walker III, 2019-12-05 This book is a political and theological reflection on the violence and injustice that has taken place in Mexico and Central America since 2006 as a result of the drug war In order to understand and respond to this conflict in the age of globalization William A Walker III combines the work of philosopher Enrique Dussel and theologian Hans Urs von Balthasar to develop a theology of the drug war that transcends both a Eurocentric conception of the world and a merely political account of salvation Walker also highlights examples of Christian and church based approaches to practicing neighborliness and resistance to drug trade related violence challenging both Christians and non Christians to participate in the creation of a more just and merciful society

Genocide and Human Rights J. Roth,2005-07-27 Genocide is evil or nothing could be It raises a host of questions about humanity rights justice and reality which are key areas of concern for philosophy Strangely however philosophers have tended to ignore genocide Even more problematic philosophy and philosophers bear more responsibility for genocide than they have usually admitted In Genocide and Human Rights A Philosophical Guide an international group of twenty five contemporary philosophers work to correct those deficiencies by showing how philosophy can and should respond to genocide particularly in ways that defend human rights Women's Bodies as Battlefield Susan Brooks

Thistlethwaite,2016-02-05 Christian theology has been complicit in justifying the war on women but it also has resources to help finally declare peace in the war on women War itself has come to resemble the war on women and thus strategies to end the war on women supported by new Christian theological interpretations will also help end today s endless wars Empire of Sacrifice Jon Pahl,2010-01-05 It is widely recognized that American culture is both exceptionally religious and exceptionally violent Americans participate in religious communities in high numbers yet American citizens also own guns at rates far beyond those of citizens in other industrialized nations Since 9 11 United States scholars have understandably discussed religious violence in terms of terrorist acts a focus that follows United States policy Yet according to Jon Pahl to identify religious violence only with terrorism fails to address the long history of American violence rooted in religion throughout the country s history In essence Americans have found ways to consider blessed some very brutal attitudes and behaviors both domestically and globally In Empire of Sacrifice Pahl explains how both of these distinctive features of American culture work together by exploring how constructions along the lines of age race and gender have operated to centralize cultural power across American civil or cultural religions in ways that don t always appear to be religious at all Pahl traces the development of these forms of systemic violence throughout American history using evidence from popular culture including movies such as Rebel without a Cause and Reefer Madness and works of literature such as The Narrative of the Life of Frederick Douglass and The Handmaid s Tale to illuminate historical events Throughout Pahl focuses an intense light on the complex and durable interactions between religion and violence in American history from Puritan Boston to George W Bush s Baghdad Theology that Matters Darby Kathleen Ray, What difference does theological thinking make Does Christianity have any relevance for our secular globalized environmentally threatened world Specifically formulated for undergraduate and seminary courses in theology this volume answers a resounding yes Gathering many respected and original Christian thinkers who have been inspired by the example and work of theologian Sallie McFague this book engages such topics as God Christ revelation eschatology and church in three intertwined and pressing areas 1 our religious life and language in a secularized pluralistic society 2 our newly globalized economic life and 3 our threatened environmental life flood gates of information which enables us to construct a wholly new level of understanding When this knowledge is mapped on to ancient scriptures and sacred texts a revelatory platform is provided to probe the deeper nature of reality and our own spirituality This book is the beehive of spiritual nectar which is characterized by its non dual undifferentiated attributes provided for your nourishment

Humanism and the Death of God Ronald E. Osborn, 2017-01-19 Humanism and the Death of God is a critical exploration of secular humanism and its discontents Through close readings of three exemplary nineteenth century philosophical naturalists or materialists who perhaps more than anyone set the stage for our contemporary quandaries when it comes to questions of human nature and moral obligation Ronald E Osborn argues that the death of God ultimately tends toward the death of liberal understandings of the human as well Any fully persuasive defense of humanistic values including the core humanistic concepts of inviolable dignity rights and equality attaching to each individual requires an essentially religious vision of personhood Osborn shows such a vision is found in an especially dramatic and historically consequential way in the scandalous particularity of the Christian narrative of God becoming a human He does not attempt to provide logical proofs for the central claims of Christian humanism along the lines some philosophers might demand Instead this study demonstrates how philosophical naturalism or materialism and secular humanisms and anti humanisms might be persuasively read from the perspective of a classically orthodox Christian faith
