Coetzee, 2005-03-28 In a South Africa torn by civil war Michael K sets out to take his mother back to her rural home On the way there she dies leaving him alone in an anarchic world of brutal roving armies Imprisoned Michael is unable to bear confinement and escapes determined to live with dignity Life and Times of Michael K goes to the centre of human experience the need for an interior spiritual life for some connections to the world in which we live and for purity of vision This is a truly astonishing novel I finished Life Times of Michael K in a state of elation for all the misery and suffering it contains I cannot recommend it highly enough Evening Standard Life & Times of Michael K J. M.

Coetzee, 1985 Michael K a young South African becomes unwillingly and unwittingly involved in a war in South Africa after he loses his gardening job in Capetown and embarks on an odyssey to return his dying mother to her homeland Trauma, Resistance, Reconstruction in Post-1994 South African Writing Jaspal Kaur Singh, Rajendra Chetty, 2010 The re conceptualization of South Africa as a democracy in 1994 has influenced the production and reception of texts in this nation and around the globe The literature emerging after 1994 provides a vision for reconciling the fragmented past produced by the brutality of apartheid policies and consequently shifting social relations from a traumatized past to a reconstructed future The purpose of the essays in this anthology is to explore within the literary imagination and cultural production of a post apartheid nation and its people how the trauma and violence of the past are reconciled through textual strategies What role does memory play for the remembering subject working through the trauma of a violent past

Père-versions of the Truth Sławomir Masłoń,2007 Handbook of Spanish-English Translation Lucía V. Aranda,2007 The Handbook of Spanish English Translation is a lively and accessible book for students interested in translation studies and Spanish This book details the growth of translation studies from Cicero to postcolonial interpretations of translation as rewriting It examines through examples the main issues involved in translation and interpretation such as text types register interference equivalence and untranslatability The chapters on interpretation and audiovisual translation and the comparative analysis of Spanish and English are especially significant The second part of the book offers a rich compilation of diverse Spanish and English texts academic literary and government writings comic strips brochures movie scripts and newspapers and their published translations each with a brief introduction by Professor Aranda

Postcolonial Narrative and the Work of Mourning Sam Durrant,2012-02-01 Sam Durrant s powerfully original book compares the ways in which the novels of J M Coetzee Wilson Harris and Toni Morrison memorialize the traumatic histories of racial oppression that continue to haunt our postcolonial era The works examined bear witness to the colonization of the New World U S slavery and South African apartheid histories founded on a violent denial of the humanity of the other that had traumatic consequences for both perpetrators and victims Working at the borders of psychoanalysis and deconstruction and drawing inspiration from recent work on the Holocaust Durrant rethinks Freud s opposition between mourning and melancholia at the level of the collective and rearticulates the postcolonial project as an inconsolable labor of remembrance

J.M. Coetzee David Attwell,1993-06-11 David Attwell defends the literary and political integrity of South African novelist J M Coetzee by arguing that Coetzee has absorbed the textual turn of postmodern culture while still addressing the ethical tensions of the South African crisis As a form of situational metafiction Coetzee s writing reconstructs and critiques some of the key discourses in the history of colonialism and apartheid from the eighteenth century to the present While self conscious about fiction making it takes seriously the condition of the society in which it is produced Attwell begins by describing the intellectual and political contexts surrounding Coetzee s fiction and then provides a developmental analysis of his six novels drawing on Coetzee s other writings in stylistics literary criticism translation political journalism and popular culture Elegantly written Attwell s analysis deals with both Coetzee s subversion of the dominant culture around him and his ability to see the complexities of giving voice to the anguish of South Africa

Literary Gastronomy David Bevan,1988 Secretary of the Invisible Mike Marais,2009 How do individuals who are part of a community respond to the stranger as a stranger i e without simply positioning this outsider in opposition to the community in which they are located How may individuals receive something unknown and therefore surprising into their world without compromising it by identifying it in the terms of that world In this study Mike Marais traces the various ways in which Coetzee's fiction from Dusklands through to Slow Man repeatedly poses such questions of hospitality It is shown that the form of ethical action staged in Coetzee's writing is grounded not in the individual's willed and rational achievement but in his or her invasion and possession by the strangeness of the stranger This ethic of hospitality Marais argues has a strong aesthetic dimension for Coetzee the writer is inspired to write by being acted upon by a force from beyond the phenomenal world The writer is a secretary of the invisible She or he is responsible to and for the invisible Marais maintains that this understanding of writing as an involuntary response to that which exceeds history is evident from the first in Coetzee's fiction In readings of the novels of the apartheid era he traces this writer's rueful ironic awareness of the limited even incidental form of political engagement that may emanate from such an aesthetic He then goes on to argue that if it is the writer's obligation to render visible the invisible writing must be a task that can never be completed What is more such writing is thus bound to be iterative in form With this in mind he traces the structural similarities between Coetzee's writing of the apartheid period and his post apartheid and Australian writing arguing that the later texts are self reflexively aware of their endlessly repetitive nature These contentions are developed incrementally through close readings of the individual novels that focus on recurring metaphors of hospitality visitor the stranger the house the castaway the invisible the dream and the child

The Booker Prize and the Legacy of Empire

Luke Strongman, 2021-12-28 This book is about the Booker Prize the London based literary award made annually to the best novel written in English by a writer from one of those countries belonging to or formerly part of the British Commonwealth The approach to the Prize is thematically historical and spans the award period to 1999 The novels that have won or shared the Prize in this period are examined within a theoretical framework mapping the literary terrain of the fiction Individual chapters explore themes that occur within the larger narrative formed by this body of novels collectively invoked cultures social trends and movements spanning the stages of imperial heyday and decline as perceived over the past three decades Individually and collectively the novels mirror often in terms of more than a single static image British imperial culture after empire contesting and reinterpreting perceptions of the historical moment of the British Empire and its legacy in contemporary culture The body of Booker novels narrates the demise of empire and the emergence of different cultural formations in its aftermath The novels are grouped for discussion according to the way in which they deal with aspects of the transition from empire to a post imperial culture from early imperial expansion through colonization retrenchment decolonization and postcolonial pessimism to the emergence of tribal nationalisms and post imperial nation states The focus throughout is primarily literary and contingently cultural

Life and Times of Michael K J. M. Coetzee, Colbert Mashile, 2006

Garden Plots Shelley Saguro, 2017-05-15 Shelley Saguro's unique book illustrates the persistent presence of gardens in literature Gardens in fiction do not simply represent a familiar theme Saguro contends but are bound up with wider aesthetic and ideological issues As with literary forms so too are gardens subject to transformations Encompassing a wide array of twentieth and twenty first century authors including Virginia Woolf Eudora Welty Carol Shields J M Coetzee Toni Morrison Leslie Marmon Silko Jamaica Kincaid Don DeLillo and Philip K Dick this book's preoccupations are signalled in the evocatively titled chapters Botanical Modernisms Natural History and Postmodern Grafting Postcolonial Landscapes How Does Your Cyber Garden Grow and Coevolutionary Histories the Poetics of a Paradox Informed by postcolonial formalist feminist and psychoanalytic theories Garden Plots is a must read for all those alive to the space gardens inhabit in the literary landscape

J. M. Coetzee and the Power of Narrative, Nadine Gordimer Dominic Head, 1994-11-10 The award to Nadine Gordimer of the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1991 was an affirmation of her distinctive contribution to twentieth century fiction and to the creation of a literature that challenges apartheid In this study which may be used as an introduction as well as by those already familiar with Gordimer's work Dominic Head discusses each of her novels in detail paying close attention to the texts both as a reflection of events and situations in the real world and as evidence of her constant rethinking of her craft Head shows how Gordimer's concerns apparent in her earliest novels are developed through increasing stress on the politics of textuality and he pursues the implications of this development to consider how Gordimer's later work contributes to postmodernist fiction and to a recentering of political engagement in an era of uncertainty

Critical Perspectives on J. M. Coetzee Graham Huggan, Stephen Watson, 1996-02-12 Critical Perspectives on J M Coetzee is one of the first collections of critical essays on this major contemporary writer The essays written by an international cast of contributors adopt a variety of approaches to Coetzee's often controversial work taking care to place that work within its wider cultural context Contributions include essays of more general import ranging across Coetzee's oeuvre as well as essays that analyse in more detail individual Coetzee novels The collection also includes a preface by Coetzee's fellow South African the internationally acclaimed writer Nadine Gordimer

Artefacts of Writing Peter D. McDonald, 2017 Explores the relationship between literature and international relations and considers how writing resists norms and puts any fixed or final idea of community in question Part I examines the European context 1860 to 1945 and Part II analyses the traditions of disruptive writing that emerged out of sub Saharan Africa and south Asia after 1945

The Politics of Humiliation in the Novels of J.M. Coetzee Hania A.M. Nashef, 2013-05-13 In this volume Nashef looks at J M Coetzee's concern with universal suffering and the inevitable humiliation of the human being as manifest in his novels Though several theorists have referred to the theme of human degradation in Coetzee's work no detailed study has been made of this area of concern especially with respect to how pervasive it is across Coetzee's literary output to date This study examines what J M Coetzee's novels portray as the circumstances that contribute to the humiliation of the individual namely the abuse of language master and slave interplay aging and senseless waiting and how these conditions can lead to the alienation and marginalization of the individual

Enjoying the Track of Expression: An Psychological Symphony within Life And Times Of Michael K

In a world eaten by screens and the ceaseless chatter of instantaneous transmission, the melodic elegance and emotional symphony produced by the written term often diminish in to the back ground, eclipsed by the relentless sound and interruptions that permeate our lives. However, nestled within the pages of Life And Times Of Michael K a marvelous literary treasure filled with natural thoughts, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced.
