Warren,James Cousins,2015-10-08 Current educational reforms have given rise to various types of educational Taylorism which encourage the creation of efficiency models in pursuit of a unified way to teach In history education curricula this has been introduced through scripted textbook based programs such as Teacher Curriculum Institute s History Alive and completely online curricula They include the jargon of authentic methods such as primary sources cooperative learning differentiated instruction and access to technology yet the craft of teaching is removed and an experience that should be marked by discovery and reflection is replaced with comparatively empty processes This volume provides systematic models and examples of ways that history teachers can compete with and effectively halt this transformation The alternatives the authors present are based on collaborative models that address the art of teaching for pre service and practicing secondary history teachers as well as collegiate history educators Relying on original research and a maturing body of secondary literature on historical thinking this book illuminates how collaboration can create real historical learning The Gamification of Higher Education N. Niman,2014-07-17 Instead of thinking about education as the mastery of a body of knowledge where the subject matter becomes the focus of our attention The Gamification of Higher Education encourages us to think of it as a process that draws out the best in individuals and prepares them for happy productive and successful lives

phenotypic change Little is known today about the underlying genetic epigenetic and transient changes that accompany this phenotypic switch and about the role for the tumor micro environment in influencing it Hence this is currently an area of speculation and keen interest in the Oncology field with wide ranging translational implications In this Frontiers Research Topic we discuss our current understanding of these concepts in various cancer types including breast cancer colorectal cancer and metastatic melanoma This topic covers how these processes of cellular and phenotypic plasticity are regulated and how they relate to cancer initiation progression dormancy metastases and response to cytotoxics or targeted therapies
