present the latest research developments in natural and constructed wetlands in relation to either water resource functions or water quality. Articles published in this Research Topic will showcase new understandings of water balances and flow patterns, vegetation characteristics and pollutant transformations in wetland systems, innovative designs and efficiencies of wastewater treatment wetlands and technologies that revitalize the ecosystem functions of natural wetlands. These articles are expected to bring benefits to research communities, water and wastewater industries and government agencies that deal with wetland water management and conservation. High quality Original Research and Review articles in this field are all welcome for submission to this Research Topic. Research interests include but are not limited to the following areas:

- 1 Water balances and flow patterns in natural wetland systems
- 2 The hydrological regulation functions and importance of natural wetlands in their environmental context
- 3 Vegetation characteristics of natural wetlands and their functional importance in wetland water pollution control
- 4 Techniques for the rehabilitation of degraded wetlands
- 5 The role of constructed wetlands in wastewater treatment
- 6 Innovative designs and efficiencies of wastewater treatment wetlands
- 7 The modeling of hydrological and/or pollutant dynamics in wetland systems
- 8 The ecohydrology of wetlands
- 9 The role of wetlands in the global carbon cycle
- 10 Impacts of climate change and human activities on wetland hydrology and water resources

Recognizing that hydrological and biogeochemical processes are basically coupled in wetlands and their landscapes, manuscripts that report their interactions are particularly welcome.
