Students of archaeology today need to learn and understand these technologies but can on the other hand also profit from them in creative ways of teaching and learning The same holds true for visitors to a museum This volume presents the outcome of a two day international symposium on digital methods in teaching and learning in archaeology held at the University of Cologne in October 2018 addressing exactly this topic Specialists from around the world share their views on the newest developments in the field of archaeology and the way we teach these with the help of archaeogaming augmented and virtual reality 3D reconstruction and many more Thirteen chapters cover different approaches to teaching and learning archaeology in universities and museums and offer insights into modern day ways to communicate the past in a digital age
