Cutlip,2013-11-05 Based largely on primary sources this book presents the first detailed history of public relations from 1900 through the 1960s The author utilized the personal papers of John Price Jones Ivy L Lee Harry Bruno William Baldwin III John W Hill Earl Newsom as well as extensive interviews conducted by the author himself with Pendleton Dudley T J Ross Edward L Bernays Harry Bruno William Baldwin and more Consequently the book provides practitioners scholars and students with a realistic inside view of the way public relations has developed and been practiced in the United States since its beginnings in mid 1900 For example the book tells how President Roosevelt s reforms of the Square Deal brought the first publicity agencies to the nation s capital Edward L Bernays Ivy Lee and Albert Lasker made it socially acceptable for women to smoke in the 1920s William Baldwin III saved the now traditional Macy s Thanksgiving Day parade in its infancy Ben Sonnenberg took Pepperidge Farm bread from a small town Connecticut bakery to the nation s supermarket shelves and made millions doing it Two Atlanta publicists Edward Clark and Bessie Tyler took a defunct Atlanta bottle club the Ku Klux Klan in 1920 and boomed it into a hate organization of three million members in three years and made themselves rich in the process Earl Newsom failed to turn mighty General Motors around when it was besieged by Ralph Nader and Congressional advocates of auto safety This book documents the tremendous role public relations practitioners play in our nation s economic social and political affairs a role that goes generally unseen and unobserved by the average citizen whose life is affected in so many ways by the some 150 000 public relations practitioners

Managing Strategic Relationships Leonard Greenhalgh,2001-08-01 Contrary to the gospel of a century of management thinkers the primary job of the manager is no longer to plan organize direct or control asserts management expert Leonard Greenhalgh Instead he argues today s successful managers are primarily negotiators who are judged on their ability to foster coach protect and support collaborative relationships and manage conflict with peers workers bosses suppliers customers regulators competitors and stakeholders In one of the most comprehensive analyses of business relationships ever written Greenhalgh shows how relationships not technology or know how are the foundation of the new extended enterprise In immensely readable prose he describes how companies have moved beyond adversarial relationships of command and control hierarchies to a new communal world in which internal networks of autonomous professionals and external networks of collaborating organizations compete against rival networks In order to manage managers must acquire a whole new set of negotiating skills he argues Traditional negotiating techniques promoted winning and self interest leaving a wake of bitterness and acrimony Here Greenhalgh introduces for the first time a brilliant concept he calls Commonwealth which promotes ongoing relationships and the common interest Using scores of detailed case studies and examples he offers a set of cutting edge tools managers can apply immediately to repair and improve relationships between people at all levels of responsibility between groups between organizations themselves and between personalities involving gender differences Timely stimulating and powerful Managing Strategic Relationships is essential reading for every manager who hopes to succeed in the organization of today
