describe and contrast two opposing forces in the imagination of science in education epicization and novelization Currently they argue the imagination of science in education is dominated by epicization which provides an absolute past of scientific heroes and peak discoveries This opens a distance between students and today s scientific enterprises and contrasts sharply with the wider aim of science education to bring the actual world of science closer to students To better understand how to reach this aim the authors offer a detailed look at novelization which is a continuous renewal of narratives that derives from dialogical interaction The book brings together two hitherto separate fields of research in science education psychologically informed research on students images of science and semiotically informed research on images of science in textbooks Drawing on a series of studies in which children participate in the imagination of science in and out of the classroom the authors show how the process of novelization actually occurs in the practice of education and outline the various images of science this process ultimately yields
