Intellectual Culture in Medieval Paris Ian P. Wei, 2012 This book explores the ideas of theologians at the medieval University of Paris and their attempts to shape society The Oxford Handbook of Medieval Christianity John H. Arnold, 2014-08-21 The Oxford Handbook of Medieval Christianity takes as its subject the beliefs practices and institutions of the Christian Church between 400 and 1500AD It addresses topics ranging from early medieval monasticism to late medieval mysticism from the material wealth of the Church to the spiritual exercises through which certain believers might attempt to improve their souls Each chapter tells a story but seeks also to ask how and why Christianity took particular forms at particular moments in history paying attention to both the spiritual and otherworldly aspects of religion and the material and political contexts in which they were often embedded This Handbook is a landmark academic collection that presents cutting edge interpretive perspectives on medieval religion for a wide academic audience drawing together thirty key scholars in the field from the United States the UK and Europe Notably the Handbook is arranged thematically and focusses on an analytical rather than narrative approach seeking to demonstrate the variety change and complexity of religion throughout this long period and the numerous different ways in which modern scholarship can approach it While providing a very wide ranging view of the subject it also offers an important agenda for further study in the field A Companion to Ezra Pound's Guide to Kulchur Anderson Araujo, 2018 Published in 1938 Guide to Kulchur encapsulates Ezra Pound's chief concerns his cultural historiographic philosophical and epistemological theories his aesthetics and poetics and his economic and political thought In its fifty eight chapters and postscript it constitutes an interdisciplinary and transhistorical cultural anthropology that exemplifies his slogan for the renovation of ancient wisdom for current use Make It New Though wildly encyclopedic allusive and recursive Guide to Kulchur is inescapable in any serious study of Pound A Companion to Ezra Pound's Guide to Kulchur addresses the formidable interpretive challenges his most far reaching prose tract presents to the reader Providing page by page glosses on key terms and passages the Companion also situates Pound's allusions and references in relation to other texts in his vast body of work especially The Cantos Striking a balance between rigorous scholarly standards and readerly accessibility the book is designed to meet the needs of the specialist while keeping the critical apparatus unobtrusive so as also to appeal to students and the general public A long needed resource A Companion to Ezra Pound's Guide to Kulchur makes a lasting contribution to the study of one of the most influential and controversial literary figures of the twentieth century Human Nature in Early Franciscan Thought Lydia Schumacher, 2023-01-19 A cutting edge study of human nature in early Franciscan thought which illustrates its extensive use of Islamic and Jewish philosophy Medieval Allegory as Epistemology Marco Nievergelt, 2023-03-21 In Medieval Allegory as Epistemology Marco Nievergelt argues that late medieval dream poetry was able to use the tools of allegorical fiction to explore a set of complex philosophical questions regarding the nature of human knowledge. The focus is on three of the most widely read and influential poems of the later Middle Ages: Jean de Meun's Roman de la Rose, the Pelerinages trilogy of Guillaume de Deguileville, and William Langland's Piers Plowman in its various versions. All three poets grapple with a collection of shared, closely related epistemological problems that emerged in Western Europe during the thirteenth century in the wake of the reception of the complete body of Aristotle's works on logic and the natural sciences. This study therefore not only examines the intertextual and literary historical relations linking the work of the three poets but takes their shared interest in cognition and epistemology as a starting point to assess their wider cultural and intellectual significance in the context of broader developments in late medieval philosophy of mind, knowledge, and language. Vernacular literature more broadly played an extremely important role in lending an enlarged cultural resonance to philosophical ideas developed by scholastic thinkers, but it is also shown that allegorical narrative could prompt philosophical speculation on its own terms, deliberately interrogating the dominance and authority of scholastic discourses and institutions by using first-person fictional narrative as a tool for intellectual speculation.

Song, Landscape, and Identity in Medieval Northern France Jennifer Saltzstein, 2023 Song, Landscape and Identity in Medieval Northern France offers a new perspective on how medieval song expressed relationships between people and their environments. Informed by environmental history and harnessing musicological and ecocritical approaches, author Jennifer Saltzstein draws connections between the nature imagery that pervades songs written by the trouvres of northern France to the physical terrain and climate of the lands on which their authors lived. In doing so, she analyzes the different ways in which composers lived, environments related to their songs, and categorizes their use of nature imagery as realistic, aspirational, or nostalgic. Demonstrating a cycle of mutual impact between nature and culture, Saltzstein argues that trouvres songs influenced the ways particular groups of medieval people defined their identities, encouraging them to view themselves as belonging to specific landscapes. The book offers close readings of love songs, pastourelles, motets, and rondets from the likes of Gace Brul, Adam de la Halle, Guillaume de Machaut, and many others. Saltzstein shows how their music-text relationships illuminate the ways in which song helped to foster identities tied to specific landscapes among the knightly classes, the clergy, aristocratic women, and peasants. By connecting social types to topographies, trouvres songs and the manuscripts in which they were preserved presented models of identity for later generations of songwriters, performers, listeners, patrons, and readers to emulate, thereby projecting into the future specific ways of being on the land. Written in the long thirteenth century during the last major era of climate change, trouvres songs, as Saltzstein demonstrates, shape our understanding of how identity formation has rested on relationships between nature, culture, and change.

Experiences of Charity, 1250-1650 Anne M. Scott, 2016-03-09 For a number of years, scholars who are concerned with issues of poverty and the poor have turned away from the study of charity and poor relief in order to search for a view of the life of the poor from the point of view of the poor themselves Great studies have been conducted using a variety of records resulting in seminal works that have enriched our understanding of pauper experiences and the influence and impact of poverty on societies If we return our gaze to charity with the benefit of those studies questions approaches sources and findings what might we see differently about how charity was experienced as a concept and in practice at both community and personal levels In this collection contributors explore the experience of charity towards the poor considering it in spiritual intellectual emotional personal social cultural and material terms The approach is a comparative one across different time periods nations and faiths Contributors pay particular attention to the way faith inflected charity in the different national environments of England and France as Catholicism and Calvinism became outlawed and or minority faith positions in these respective nations They ask how different faith and beliefs defined or shaped the act of charity and explore whether these changed over time even within one faith The sources used to answer such questions go beyond the textual as contributors analyse a range of additional sources that include the visual aural and material Echoes of Insight Patrick Allen, Kenneth Badley, 2017-02-10 Christian higher education needs something richer and deeper Faith based institutions yearn for more than business as usual and Echoes of Insight invites you to listen again to older forgotten and perhaps even ignored voices Designed to stimulate conversation among colleagues Echoes of Insight offers brief summaries of several thought provoking writers from the last century and encourages a new vigorous conversation about Christian higher education Alfred North Whitehead John Henry Newman Dorothy Sayers Abraham Flexner Hannah Arendt Thorstein Veblen Flannery O Connor Jos Ortega y Gasset Maria Montessori Robert Maynard Hutchins Karl Jaspers The Philosopher's Index: Subject index ,1980 Includes original philosophy books published outside of the United States in English between 1940 and 1978 and articles published in philosophy journals between 1940 and 1966
