The Spiritual Power of Nonviolence George W. Wolfe, 2010-09-29 Religion and violence the two concepts seem incompatible given the emphasis in religion on virtue love forgiveness and compassion Yet many scriptures contain martial images and stories of god inspired military conquest The Spiritual Power of Nonviolence confronts this theological contradiction arguing that martial images and symbols found in religious texts are often meant to be interpreted as metaphors for an inner spiritual struggle and should never be used as a justification for war The analysis is undertaken from an interfaith perspective that explains many of the paradoxical concepts found in theories of nonviolence Professor Wolfe also presents a compelling case for the sustainability paradigm and for offering peace education and interreligious dialogue on a global scale He probes the scriptures of the world proving that nonviolence is a shared virtue and that the real enemy we must battle against and ultimately defeat is actually within us An excellent introduction to spiritually based principled nonviolence Professor Wolfe's blend of different wisdom traditions is especially useful

Dr Michael Nagler Professor Emeritus University of California at Berkeley George Wolfe has put the blame for proliferating violence in the world where it belongs on the crass interpretation of religion A thought provoking book

Fundamental Processes in Ecology David M Wilkinson, 2007-09-13 Fundamental Processes in Ecology presents a way to study ecosystems that is not yet available in ecology textbooks but is resonant with current thinking in the emerging fields of geobiology and Earth System Science It provides an alternative process based classification of ecology and proposes a truly planetary view of ecological science To achieve this it asks and endeavours to answer the question what are the fundamental ecological processes which would be found on any planet with Earth like carbon based life The author demonstrates how the idea of fundamental ecological processes can be developed at the systems level specifically their involvement in control and feedback mechanisms This approach allows us to reconsider basic ecological ideas such as energy flow guilds trade offs carbon cycling and photosynthesis and to put these in a global context In doing so the book puts a much stronger emphasis on microorganisms than has traditionally been the case The integration of Earth System Science with ecology is vitally important if ecological science is to successfully contribute to the massive problems and future challenges associated with global change Although the approach is heavily influenced by Lovelock s Gaia hypothesis this is not a popular science book about Gaian theory Instead it is written as an accessible text for graduate student seminar courses and researchers in the fields of ecology earth system science evolutionary biology palaeontology history of life astrobiology geology and physical geography
