

M.A.I.N Causes of WW1

Militarism

When a nation's army takes over a country's government
Every country wanted their army to be most powerful.

Alliances

Countries signed treaties in which all countries involved promised to defend any 1 country involved that they would help Countries promised to help each other

Imperialism

Some countries overpowered others by economic, political, and cultural lives of other countries.

From the industrial revolution in the 1800's, some European nations had a large control of other countries in the war the policy stating one nation can be viewed as separate from the interests of other nations or the common interests of all nations.

Nationalism

Most nations had pride and they thought that that all other nations should be run like theirs.

The War to End All Wars: A Comprehensive History of World War I Kevin Hunt, 2024-02-26 Echoes of Valor The Great War A Comprehensive History of World War I transports you to a tumultuous era when the world stood on the precipice of cataclysm From the trenches of the Western Front to the desolate expanses of the Eastern Front

witness the clash of empires the resilience of soldiers and the indomitable human spirit The War To End All Wars delves beyond battles and treaties It reveals the resilience of the human spirit the bonds forged in adversity and the seeds of a changed world As the guns fell silent in 1918 the echoes of valor reverberated through generations Immerse yourself in the crucible of history Hear the echoes that shaped our present Are you ready to take a step back in time History for the IB Diploma: Causes, Practices and Effects of Wars Mike Wells,2011-05-19 An exciting new series that covers the five Paper 2 topics of the IB 20th Century World History syllabus This coursebook covers Paper 2 Topic 1 Causes practices and effects of wars in the 20th Century World History syllabus for the IB History programme It is divided into thematic sections following the IB syllabus structure and is written in clear accessible English It covers the following areas for detailed study First World War 1914 18 Second World War 1939 45 Asia and Oceania Chinese Civil War 1927 37 and 1946 9 and Europe and Middle East Spanish Civil War 1936 9 Tailored to the requirements and assessment objectives of the IB syllabus it allows students to make comparisons between different regions and time periods World War II, Film, and History John Whiteclay Chambers II,David Culbert,1996-10-10 The immediacy and perceived truth of the visual image as well as film and television s ability to propel viewers back into the past place the genre of the historical film in a special category War films including antiwar films have established the prevailing public image of war in the twentieth century For American audiences the dominant image of trench warfare in World War I has been provided by feature films such as All Quiet on the Western Front and Paths of Glory The image of combat in the Second World War has been shaped by films like Sands of Iwo Jima and The Longest Day And despite claims for the alleged impact of widespread television coverage of the Vietnam War it is actually films such as Apocalypse Now and Platoon which have provided the most powerful images of what is seen as the reality of that much disputed conflict But to what degree does history written with lightning as Woodrow Wilson allegedly said represent the reality of the past To what extent is visual history an oversimplification or even a distortion of the past Exploring the relationship between moving images and the society and culture in which they were produced and received World War II Film and History addresses the power these images have had in determining our perception and memories of war Examining how the public memory of war in the twentieth century has often been created more by a manufactured past than a remembered one a leading group of historians discusses films dating from the early 1930s through the early 1990s created by filmmakers the world over from the United States and Germany to Japan and the former Soviet Union For example Freda Freiberg explains how the inter racial melodramatic Japanese feature film China Nights in which a manly and protective Japanese naval officer falls in love with a beautiful young Chinese street waif and molds her into a cultured submissive wife proved enormously popular with wartime Japanese and helped justify the invasion of China in the minds of many Japanese viewers Peter Paret assesses the historical accuracy of Kolberg as a depiction of an unsuccessful siege of that German city by a French Army in 1807 and explores how the film released by Hitler s regime in January 1945 explicitly called for civilian sacrifice and last ditch resistance Stephen Ambrose contrasts what we know about the historical reality of the Allied D Day landings in Normandy on June 6 1944 with the 1962 release of The Longest Day in which the major climactic moment in the film never happened at Normandy Alice Kessler Harris examines The Life and Times of Rosie the Riveter a 1982 film documentary about women defense workers on the American home front in World War II emphasizing the degree to which the documentary's engaging main characters and its message of the need for fair and equal treatment for women resonates with many contemporary viewers And Clement Alexander Price contrasts Men of Bronze William Miles's fine documentary about black American soldiers who fought in France in World War I with Liberators the controversial documentary by Miles and Nina Rosenblum which incorrectly claimed that African American troops liberated Holocaust survivors at Dachau in World War II In today's visually oriented world powerful images even images of images are circulated in an eternal cycle gaining increased acceptance through repetition History becomes an endless loop in which repeated images validate and reconfirm each other Based on archival materials many of which have become only recently available World War II Film and History offers an informative and a disturbing look at the complex relationship between national myths and filmic memory as well as the dangers of visual images being transformed into reality

Contexts of International Politics Gary Goertz,1994-11-24 In this book Gary Goertz examines how states interact with their environment and contexts which are important in understanding international politics He presents a philosophical methodological and empirical discussion of three important contexts which affect decision makers history system structure and international norms The effects of these contexts are explored by viewing context in turn as cause as changing meaning and as a barrier The book engages with the literature on structural realism and international regimes and uses rational actor and diffusion models as theoretical references A number of concrete studies are provided using these contextual tools including oil nationalisation USSR East European relations enduring rivalries and decolonisation These empirical examples illustrate the fruitfulness of the contextual approach to international politics

HISTORY: History Society Journal 2023 Maverick Leung, Sharon Feng, Benjamin Kwan, Lau Pui Ki, Sam Leung, Jack Tan, Ian Wong, Ben Wong, 2023-08-28

The History Society Journal publishes original mind provoking and scholarly research undertaken by students from HKU HSJ aims to promote history among students through in depth studies of historical topic and provide an academic platform for our students to publish and express their opinions on topic of the year and other historical topics This year's topic of the year of the HSJ is Struggle between the Proletariat and the Bourgeoisie Did Cold War really end in 1991 We have always heard the words such as Proletariat and Bourgeoisie when we are reading the history of Russia more specifically the Soviet Union however what exactly do they mean Not many people know the meaning of such words that has strong communistic origins In fact Proletariat and Bourgeoisie mean People with no assets and People with assets respectively The struggle between them was often regarded as events that happened in the past especially during the period between 1945 and 1991 after the collapse of the Japanese Empire and before the demise of the Soviet Union but is that really true The collapse of the Soviet Union is widely viewed as the end of the Cold War Frankly speaking though the argument that Cold War is a continuous event even till this day is not something made up by some random nobodies in the basement of their parent's house but something that is being brought up from time to time by different critics across the world It is often referred to as The Second Cold War or the New Neo Cold War often involving in the United States China and Russia the primary successor state of the former Soviet Union As a resident of Hong Kong a city which is very close with the states mentioned above be it economical or geographical it would be necessary for us to acknowledge the influence and consequences of the actions in this new Silent War in order for us to cope with the events and develop alternative ways to survive in this dangerous and hazardous world Submission of original scholarly research articles is open to undergraduates from students at HKU For further information feel free to communicate with the History Society at hiso connect hku hk
