Modern Computational Finance Antoine Savine, 2018-11-20. Arguably the strongest addition to numerical finance of the past decade. Algorithmic Adjoint Differentiation (AAD) is the technology implemented in modern financial software to produce thousands of accurate risk sensitivities within seconds on light hardware. AAD recently became a centerpiece of modern financial systems and a key skill for all quantitative analysts, developers, risk professionals, or anyone involved with derivatives. It is increasingly taught in Masters and PhD programs in finance. Danske Bank's wide scale implementation of AAD in its production and regulatory systems won the In House System of the Year 2015 Risk award. The Modern Computational Finance books, written by three of the very people who designed Danske Bank's systems, offer a unique insight into the modern implementation of financial models. The volumes combine financial modelling, mathematics, and programming to resolve real-life financial problems and produce effective derivatives software. This volume is a complete self-contained learning reference for AAD and its application in finance. AAD is explained in deep detail throughout chapters that gently lead readers from the theoretical foundations to the most delicate areas of an efficient implementation such as memory management parallel implementation and acceleration with expression templates The book comes with professional source code in C including an efficient up to date implementation of AAD and a generic parallel simulation library Modern C high performance parallel programming and interfacing C with Excel are also covered The book builds the code step by step while the code illustrates the concepts and notions developed in the book Glacially-Triggered Faulting Holger Steffen,Odleiv Olesen,Raimo Sutinen,2021-12-16
