

TWO TIME MACHINES...

Which will change the course of history?

"This war will never end as long as both sides have time machines," Barbers warned, "because one side will always be able to travel back and chokemate the other."

To Adolf Hitler, the device called Die Glocke, or The Bell, is the wonder weapon that will win World War II for Nazi Germany, enabling the Reich to dominate the world. Others see the time machine differently, among them Franklin D. Roosevelt and Heinrich Himmler.

This dramatic story of the race to develop a time machine on both sides is the first novel by Robert F. Dorr, a non-fiction author of popular history books like Admission to Berlin and Fighting Hitler's Arm. In Dorr's first fiction, the top American scientist is a young woman who has never held a job, and the top Nazi scientist is an SS madman in Hitler's inner circle. The outcome of the war may be decided by a commando raid in the tradition of The Great Escape.

Or maybe not.

Hitler's Time Machine Robert F.
