Autonomy, Informed Consent and Medical Law Alasdair Maclean, 2009-02-12 Alasdair Maclean analyses the ethical basis for consent to medical treatment providing both an extensive reconsideration of the ethical issues and a detailed examination of English law. Importantly the analysis is given a context by situating consent at the centre of the healthcare professional patient relationship. This allows the development of a relational model that balances the agency of the two parties with their obligations that arise from that relationship. That relational model is then used to critique the current legal regulation of consent. To conclude Alasdair Maclean considers the future development of the law and contrasts the model of relational consent with Neil Manson and Onora O'Neill's recent proposal for a model of genuine consent.

Women's Legal Landmarks Erika Rackley, Rosemary Auchmuty, 2018-12-27. Women's Legal Landmarks commemorates the centenary of women's admission in 1919 to the legal profession in the UK and Ireland by identifying key legal landmarks in women's legal history. Over 80 authors write about landmarks that represent a significant achievement or turning point in women's engagement with law and law reform. The landmarks cover a wide range of topics including matrimonial property, the right to vote, prostitution, surrogacy and assisted reproduction, rape, domestic violence, FGM, equal pay, abortion, image based sexual abuse and the ordination of women bishops as well as the life stories of women who were the first to undertake key legal roles and positions. Together the landmarks offer a scholarly intervention in the recovery of women's lost history and in the development of methodology of feminist legal history as well as a demonstration of women's agency and activism in the achievement of law reform and justice.
