

Steering

All ride-on lawn mowers in the Rider series have articulated steering. The steering force from the steering wheel is transferred to the rear section via wires and a chain. This ensures that the ride-on mower is easy to manoeuvre, as well as having high-precision steering. A Rider easily cuts around all obstacles that may be found on the lawn.

Thanks to the articulated steering there is a very small turning radius and the uncut circle with a fully turned wheel is only 20-30 cm, depending on the model.

Outline diagram of the articulated steering function.

Rider machines have a sliding bearing (1) on the steering column.
