What are rainforests?
A rainforest is a dense, wet, and mostly green area with many trees and plants. It is found in many parts of the world, including South America, Africa, and Asia. Rainforests are important because they are home to many different types of animals and plants.

What are the different types of rainforests?
There are two main types of rainforests:
1. Tropical rainforests
2. Temperate rainforests

What are the different types of rainforests?
Tropical rainforests are found in warm, wet areas near the equator. They have many different types of trees and plants, and are home to many different types of animals and plants. Temperate rainforests are found in cooler, wet areas. They have fewer trees and plants, and are home to fewer animals and plants.
