

1. The first step is to identify the problem. In this case, the problem is that the user is unable to access the internet.

2. The next step is to check the network connection. This can be done by checking the status of the network adapter in the device manager.

3. If the network adapter is not working, it may be necessary to update the drivers or reinstall them.

4. Another common cause of internet access issues is a problem with the DNS settings. This can be resolved by resetting the DNS settings to their default values.

5. Finally, it is important to check the firewall settings. Sometimes, the firewall can block access to the internet. This can be resolved by disabling the firewall temporarily.
