What is your initial opinion of the PreCrime Initiative? Are they effective? Do they save lives? Is it safe? Explain.

Answers will vary.

Teacher's Notes:

The precrime pronounced the victim, the killer and the date of the crime. The rest, the precrime must figure out from the images, or predictions, the precrime produce.

The precrime usually predict murders 4 days in advance but the red ball means it will be a crime of passion so there's no premeditation. The precrime don't see it until it's just about to happen, sometimes just mere minutes.

Since they started the PreCrime Initiative, premeditation doesn't happen much anymore, people have gotten the message that if they start to think about murder they will get caught.

Major PreCrime Deja Vu is when the real bad murders are echoed over and over again in their memory, so they ignore these provisions.
