Mirror Sight English Edition:

Mirrors and Mirroring from Antiquity to the Early Modern Period Maria Gerolemou, Lilia Diamantopoulou, 2020-01-09 This volume examines mirrors and mirroring through a series of multidisciplinary essays especially focusing on the intersection between technological and cultural dynamics of mirrors The international scholars brought together here explore critical questions around the mirror as artefact and the phenomenon of mirroring Beside the common visual registration of an action or inaction in a two dimensional and reversed form various types of mirrors often possess special abilities which can produce a distorted picture of reality serving in this way illusion and falsehood Part I looks at a selection of theory from ancient writers demonstrating the concern to explore these same questions in antiquity Part II considers the role reflections can play in forming ideas of gender and identity Beyond the everyday we see in Part III how oracular mirrors and magical mirrors reveal the invisible divine prosthetics that allow us to look where the eye cannot reach Finally Part IV considers mirrors roles in displaying the visible and invisible in antiquity and since

Medusa's Mirrors Julia M. Walker, 1998 The question of selfhood in Renaissance texts constitutes a scholarly and critical debate of almost unmanageable proportions The author of this work begins by questioning the strategies with which male writers depict powerful women Although Spenser's Britomart Shakespeare's Cleopatra and Milton's Eve figure selfhood very differently and to very different ends they do have two significant elements in common mirrors and transformations that diminish the power of the female self

Alhacen on Image-formation and Distortion in Mirrors: English translation and commentary Alhazen, A. Mark Smith, 2008 Mirrors of the Divine Emily R. Cain, 2023 Mirrors of the Divine examines four early Christian authors Tertullian of Carthage Clement of Alexandria Gregory of Nyssa and Augustine of Hippo and analyzes their writings on vision and knowledge of God to show how they envisioned one's relationship to the world and how they imagined the unknown Emily R Cain explores how contradictory theories of sight shaped their cosmologies theologies subjectivities genders and discursive worlds and shows that early Christian arguments about the phenomenon of visual perception are deeply intertwined with broader debates about identity agency and epistemology

From Sight to Light A. Mark Smith, 2014-12-26 From its inception in Greek antiquity the science of optics was aimed primarily at explaining sight and accounting for why things look as they do By the end of the seventeenth century however the analytic focus of optics had shifted to light its fundamental properties and such physical behaviors as reflection refraction and diffraction This dramatic shift which A Mark Smith characterizes as the Keplerian turn lies at the heart of this fascinating and pioneering study Breaking from previous scholarship that sees Johannes Kepler as the culmination of a long evolving optical tradition that traced back to Greek antiquity via the Muslim Middle Ages Smith presents Kepler instead as marking a rupture with this tradition arguing that his theory of retinal imaging which was published in 1604 was instrumental in prompting the turn from sight to light Kepler's new theory of sight Smith reveals thus takes on true historical significance by treating the eye as a mere light focusing device rather than an image producing instrument as traditionally understood Kepler's account of retinal imaging helped spur the shift in analytic focus that eventually led to modern optics A sweeping survey From Sight to Light is poised to become the standard reference for historians of optics as well as those interested more broadly in the history of science the history of art and cultural and intellectual history When Mirrors Are Windows Guillermo

Rodríguez,2016-09-01 In an ocean where myriads of rivers converge can one sole river lend the ocean its distinct flavour For someone who is at home with several languages literary traditions and disciplines is it possible for one form to criss cross the landscape of another In a poet's world of mirrors where stream and earth are sky one may sometimes count every orange on a tree but can one count all the trees in a single orange In this volume Guillermo Rodríguez explores these possibilities by analysing the works of one of India's finest poets translators essayists and scholars of the twentieth century A K Ramanujan 1929 1993 English Mechanic and Mirror of Science and Art,1880 Syncope Catherine Clément,1994-01-01 Seeing

Through the Veil Suzanne Conklin Akbari,2004-01-01 During the later Middle Ages new optical theories were introduced that located the power of sight not in the seeing subject but in the passive object of vision This shift had a powerful impact not only on medieval science but also on theories of knowledge and this changing relationship of vision and knowledge was a crucial element in late medieval religious devotion In Seeing through the Veil Suzanne Conklin Akbari examines several late medieval allegories in the context of contemporary paradigm shifts in scientific and philosophical theories of vision After a survey on the genre of allegory and an overview of medieval optical theories Akbari delves into more detailed studies of several medieval literary works including the Roman de la Rose Dante's Vita Nuova Convivio and Commedia and Chaucer's dream visions and Canterbury Tales The final chapter Division and Darkness centres on the legacy of allegory in the fifteenth century Offering a new interdisciplinary synthetic approach to late medieval intellectual history and to major works within the medieval literary canon Seeing through the Veil will be an essential resource to the study of medieval literature and culture as well as philosophy history of art and history of science Judah Moscato Sermons Gianfranco Miletto,Giuseppe
