The refined and level headed Adele finds herself flirting with her boss on public television Entrepreneurial Kathleen is suddenly drinking cappuccino with Lorenz the handsome doorman at the luxury high rise where she owns a lingerie boutique And Lois the only sister to have embarked on the road to matrimony and subsequently divorce revives her long cherished notion that Harvey abandoned Adele rather than indulge his preference for another Dobbin Both comic and compassionate The Ladies Man has all of Lipman's trademark wit wattage and social mischief with an extra bite Thomas Mann Hermann Kurzke, 2021-09-14 This vivid sometimes tragic and often humorous literary biography brings to life as never before the extraordinary talent and complex person who was Thomas Mann Engrossing vignettes enable us to enter Mann's life and work from unique angles We meet the difficult even unsavory private man hypochondriac and nervous narcissistic and vainglorious isolated and greedy for love shy and often ungenerous But we are also introduced to a man who lived an eventful life was capable of great kindness loved dogs doted on his daughters and listened to Jack Benny We experience Mann's tragedy as the quintessential German forced by the rise of National Socialism first into inner exile and then into real exile in Switzerland Princeton and California His letters from this time reveal the torment that exile represented for a writer whose work indeed whose very self was inextricably bound up with the German language The book provides fresh and sometimes startling insights into both famous and little known episodes in Mann's life and into his writing the only realm in which he ever felt free It shows how love death religion and politics were not merely themes in Buddenbrooks The Magic Mountain and other works but were woven into the fabric of his existence and preoccupied him unrelentingly It also teases out what is known about what Mann considered his celibate homoeroticism and what others have labeled closeted homosexuality In particular we learn about his affection for the young man who inspired the character of Tadzio in Death in Venice And against the unfocused accusations of anti Semitism that have been leveled at Mann the book examines in human detail his relationships with Jewish writers friends and family members This is the richest available portrait of Thomas Mann as man and writer the place to start for anyone wanting to know anything about his life work or times Who's who in Gay and Lesbian History Robert Aldrich, Garry Wotherspoon, 2001 500 entries from more than 100 contributors profiling gay and lesbians throughout history ranging from Sappho to Andre Gide most entries are accompanied by a bibliography Re-visioning Historical Fiction for Young Readers Kim Wilson, 2011-06-15 This study is concerned with how readers are positioned to interpret the past in historical fiction for children and young adults Looking at literature published within the last thirty to forty years Wilson identifies and explores a prevalent trend for re visioning and rewriting the past according to modern social and political ideological assumptions Fiction within this genre while concerned with the past at the level of content is additionally concerned with present views of that historical past because of the future to which it is moving Specific areas of discussion include the identification of a new sub genre Living history fiction stories of Joan of Arc historical fiction featuring agentic females the very popular Scholastic Press historical journal series fictions of war and historical fiction featuring multicultural discourses Wilson observes specific traits in historical fiction written for children most notably how the notion of positive progress into the future is nuanced differently in this literature in which the concept of progress from the past is inextricably linked to the protagonist s potential for agency and the realization of subjectivity. The genre consistently manifests a concern with identity construction that in turn informs and influences how a metanarrative of positive progress is played out This book engages in a discussion of the functionality of the past within the genre and offers an interpretative frame for the sifting out of the present from the past in historical fiction for young readers Transmedia Practices in the Long Nineteenth Century Christina Meyer, Monika Pietrzak-Franger, 2022-02-23 This volume provides engaging accounts with transmedia practices in the long nineteenth century and offers model analyses of Victorian media e g theater advertising books games newspapers alongside the technological economic and cultural conditions under which they emerged in the Anglophone world By exploring engagement tactics and forms of audience participation the book affords insight into the role that social agents e.g. individual authors publishing houses theatre show producers lithograph companies toy manufacturers newspaper syndicates or advertisers played in the production distribution and consumption of Victorian media It considers such examples as Sherlock Holmes Kewpie Dolls media forms and practices such as cut outs popular lectures telephone conversations or early theater
