International Studies Sheldon Anderson,Mark Allen Peterson,Stanley W. Toops,Jeanne A.K. Hey,2014-07-08 This core text is the first to provide a much needed interdisciplinary approach to international studies Emphasizing the interconnected nature of history geography anthropology economics and political science International Studies details the methodologies and subject matter of each discipline then applies these discipline lenses to seven regions Europe East Asia and the Pacific South and Central Asia sub Saharan Africa the Middle East and North Africa Latin America and North America This disciplinary and regional combination provides an indispensable cohesive framework for understanding global issues The fully updated fourth edition includes four new global issues chapters The Refugee Crisis in Europe The Syrian Civil War and the Rise of the Islamic State Global Climate Change and The Globalization of Modern Sports Michigan's Venice Daniel F. Harrison,2024-04-16 A chronicle of a unique waterscape and how its inhabitants navigated claimed and reshaped the region Few maritime landscapes in the Great Lakes remain so deeply and clearly inscribed by successive cultures as the St Clair system a river delta and lake found between Lake Huron and the Detroit River The St Clair River and its environs are an age old transportation nexus of land and water routes a strategic point of access to maritime resources and in many ways a natural impediment to the navigation of the Great Lakes From Indigenous peoples and European colonizers to the modern nations of Canada and the United States this work traces the region s transformation through culturally driven practices and artifacts of shipbuilding navigation place naming and mapmaking In this novel approach to maritime landscape archaeology author Daniel F Harrison unifies historiography linguistics ethnohistory geography and literature through the analysis of primary sources material culture and ecological and geographic data in a technique he calls evidence based storytelling Viewed over time the region forms a microcosm of the interplay of environment culture and technology that characterized the gradual shift from nature to an industrial society and a built environment optimized for global waterborne transport

Harris, 2024-11-01 As the first book to examine the origins and spread of agriculture and pastoralism in Europe and Asia as a whole this major contribution should be essential reading for archaeologists anthropologists biologists and geographers Adopting a novel approach to the subject the authors examine it first in terms of seven different disciplinary perspectives social ecological genetic linguistic biomolecular epidemiological and geographical Then 20 case studies are presented which are based primarily on archaeological and biological evidence and which relate to three major regions Southwest Asia Europe and Central Asia to the Pacific The book concludes with an overview of Eurasia as a whole The transition from hunting and gathering to agriculture had revolutionary consequences for human society It led to the emergence of urban civilizations and ultimately to humanity's almost complete dependence on relatively few domesticated animals and plants The subject has been much studied but the results have tended to be interpreted largely in terms of local cultural sequences with insufficient comparison made with evidence from other areas In contrast this book provides a continental scale framework with its scope extended to pastoralism because in Eurasia both the raising of livestock and the cultivation of crops were integral components of the agricultural revolution from its inception some 10 000 years ago Comprehensive and authoritative The Origins and Spread of Agriculture and Pastoralism in Eurasia should appeal strongly to the wide readership of students and specialists concerned with the prehistoric antecedents of modern civilization
