The Belt and Road Initiative and the Future of Regional Order in the Indo-Pacific Nick Bisley, Michael Clarke, Matthew Sussex, 2020-01-20 The Belt and Road Initiative BRI is emerging as a vital lynch pin in China's efforts to establish a maritime and continental zone of influence in the Indo Pacific region The Belt and Road Initiative and the Future of Regional Order in the Indo Pacific interrogates to what extent BRI represents an achievable vision of a China centric order in Asia and explores its major security implications for the region The contributions to this volume provide up to date analysis of the effect of BRI on the region's foreign policy and alliance patterns its connection to geo economics and domestic Chinese politics and the policy responses of key Indo Pacific actors While acknowledging that BRI remains prey to a variety of internal and exogenous shocks the contributors conclude that at the very least BRI will continue to disrupt the existing alignments of economic and strategic interests in the Indo Pacific and that on this minimal basis BRI will likely be judged a success by China For regional actors however the BRI simultaneously enhances choice while presenting strategic and economic risks of greater dependency on China a dilemma intensified by the disruptive effects of the Trump administration on regional confidence in the longevity of American commitments and leadership

Ghosts of the Somme Jonathan Evershed,2018-05-30 Once assumed to be a driver or even cause of conflict commemoration during Ireland s Decade of Centenaries came to occupy a central place in peacebuilding efforts The inclusive and cross communal reorientation of commemoration particularly of the First World War has been widely heralded as signifying new forms of reconciliation and a greater maturity in relationships between Ireland and the UK and between Unionists and Nationalists in Northern Ireland In this study Jonathan Evershed interrogates the particular and implicitly political claims about the nature of history memory and commemoration that define and sustain these assertions and explores some of the hidden and countervailing transcripts that underwrite and disrupt them Drawing on two years of ethnographic fieldwork conducted in Belfast Evershed explores Ulster Loyalist commemoration of the Battle of the Somme its conflicted politics and its confrontation with official commemorative discourse and practice during the Decade of Centenaries He investigates how and why the myriad social political cultural and economic changes that have defined postconflict Northern Ireland have been experienced by Loyalists as a culture war and how commemoration is the means by which they confront and challenge the perceived erosion of their identity He reveals the ways in which this brings Loyalists into conflict not only with the politics of Irish Nationalism but with the peacebuilding state and crucially with each other He demonstrates how commemoration works to reproduce the intracommunal conflicts that it claims to have overcome and interrogates its nuanced and perhaps counterintuitive function in conflict transformation

Must Inclusion be Special? Jonathan Rix,2015-06-05 Must Inclusion be Special examines the discord between special and inclusive education and why this discord can only be resolved when wider inequalities within mainstream education are confronted It calls for a shift in our approach to provision from seeing it as a conglomeration of individualised needs to identifying it as a conglomeration of collective needs The author examines the political medical and cultural tendency of current times to focus upon the individual and contrasts this with the necessity to focus on context This book distinguishes the theoretical perspectives that are often associated with special or inclusive education and the broad range of interests which depend upon their ongoing development This examination leads to a problematisation of mainstream education provision our understanding of why social inequities emerge and how additional support can overcome these inequities Further chapters explore the underlying challenges which emerge from our use and understanding of the notions of special and inclusive outlining an alternative approach based upon a community of provision This approach recognises the interconnectedness of services and the significance of context and it encapsulates the aspiration of much international legislation for participation and inclusion for all But it also assumes that we tend towards diffuse practices services policies settings and roles spread across provision which is variously inclusive and exclusionary In seeking to create equitable participation for all support needs to shift its focus from the individual to this diffuse network of contexts Must Inclusion be Special emerges from the research base which problematises inclusion and special education drawing upon examples from many countries It also refers to the author s research into pedagogy language and policy and his experiences as a teacher and the parent of a child identified with special educational needs Augmented Brett King,Andy Lark,Alex Lightman,JP Rangaswami,2016-05-15 The Internet and smartphone are just the latest in a 250 year long cycle of disruption that has continuously changed the way we live the way we work and the way we interact The coming Augmented Age however promises a level of disruption behavioural shifts and changes that are unparalleled While consumers today are camping outside of an Apple store waiting to be one of the first to score a new Apple Watch or iPhone the next generation of wearables will be able to predict if we re likely to have a heart attack and recommend a course of action We watch news of Google s self driving cars but don t likely realise this means progressive cities will have to ban human drivers in the next decade because us humans are too risky Following on from the Industrial or machine age the space age and the digital age the Augmented Age will be based on four key disruptive themes Artificial Intelligence Experience Design Smart Infrastructure and HealthTech Historically the previous ages brought significant disruption and changes but on a net basis jobs were created wealth was enhanced and the health and security of society improved What will the Augmented Age bring Will robots take our jobs and AI s subsume us as inferior intelligences or will this usher in a new age of abundance Augmented is a book on future history but more than that it is a story about how you will live your life in a world that will change more in the next 20 years than it has in the last 250 years Are you ready to adapt Because if history proves anything you don t have much of a choice Going West? Agathe Reingruber,Zoi Tsirtsoni,Petranka Nedelcheva,2017-04-21 Going West questions how the Neolithic way of life was diffused from the Near East to Europe via Anatolia The contributors have focused their studies on the vast area of the Eastern Balkans and the Pontic region between the Bosphorus and the rivers Strymon Danube and Dniestr offering an overview of the current state of research regarding the Neolithisation of these areas and also providing useful starting points for future investigations Using previous studies as a basis for fresh research this volume presents exciting new interpretations by analyzing recently discovered materials and applying modern methods of interdisciplinary investigations Questions and answers for job interview Offshore Drillings Rigs Petrogav International Oil & Gas Training Center, The job interview is probably the most important step you will take in your job search journey Because it s always important to be prepared to respond effectively to the questions that employers
