Histrionics Three Plays:

Histrionics Thomas Bernhard, 1990-03-09 Although he is best known in the United States as a novelist Austrian writer Thomas Bernhard has been hailed in Europe as one of the most significant and controversial of contemporary playwrights George Steiner has predicted that the current era in German language literature will be recognized as the Bernhard period John Updike compares Bernhard with Kafka Grass Handke and Weiss His dark absurdist plays can be likened to those of Beckett and Pinter but their cultural and political concerns are distinctly Bernhard's While Austria's recent political history lends particular credibility to Bernhard's satire his criticisms are directed at the modern world generally his plays grapple with questions of totalitarianism and the subjection of the individual and with notions of reality and appearance

Novellas Thomas Bernhard, 2022-09-02 Thomas Bernhard is one of the masters of contemporary European fiction George Steiner one of the century's most gifted writers New York Newsday a virtuoso of rancor and rage Bookforum And although he is favorably compared with Franz Kafka Samuel Beckett and Robert Musil Thomas Bernhard still remains relatively unknown in America Uninitiated readers should consider Three Novellas a passport to the absurd dark and uncommonly comic world of Bernhard Two of the three novellas here have never before been published in English and all of them show an early preoccupation with the themes illness and madness isolation tragic friendships that would obsess Bernhard throughout his career Amras one of his earliest works tells the story of two brothers one epileptic who have survived a family suicide pact and are now living in a ruined tower struggling with madness trying either to come fully back to life or finally to die In Playing Watten the narrator a doctor who lost his practice due to morphine abuse describes a visit paid him by a truck driver who wanted the doctor to return to his habit of playing a game of cards watten every Wednesday a habit that the doctor had interrupted when one of the players killed himself The last novella Walking records the conversations of the narrator and his friend Oehler while they walk discussing anything that comes to mind but always circling back to their mutual friend Karrer who has gone irrevocably mad Perhaps the most overtly philosophical work in Bernhard's highly philosophical oeuvre Walking provides a penetrating meditation on the impossibility of truly thinking Three Novellas offers a superb introduction to the fiction of perhaps the greatest unsung hero of twentieth century literature Rarely have the words suffocating intense and obsessive been meant so positively

The Histrionic Sensibility Ziad Elmarsafy, 2001

Wittgenstein's Novels Martin Klebes, 2006-07-25 Analyzing features of Wittgenstein's philosophical work and including in depth textual analyses this study investigates the impact of Ludwig Wittgenstein's work on contemporary German and French novelists Drawing upon aesthetics architectural history philosophy of science and photography the book seeks to explain why references both to Wittgenstein as a person as well as to his work are more pervasive than other equally renowned twentieth century philosophers and asks why some authors such as Hndler and Roubaud are less well known and only partially translated into English

Walking Thomas Bernhard, 2015-10-15 A walk with a friend unspools a far ranging darkly comic philosophical dialogue in this novella by one of the masters of contemporary European fiction George Steiner With celebrated novels such as The Loser Woodcutters and Extinction Austrian author Thomas Bernhard cemented his reputation as one of the century's most gifted writers Though he is favorably compared with Franz Kafka and Samuel Beckett it is only in recent years that he has gained a devoted cult following in America Newsday A powerful compact novella Walking provides a perfect introduction to the absurd dark and uncommonly comic world of Thomas Bernhard showing a preoccupation with themes illness and madness isolation tragic friendships that would obsess Bernhard throughout his career Walking records the conversations of the unnamed narrator and his friend Oehler while they walk discussing anything that comes to mind but always circling back to their mutual friend Karrer who has gone irrevocably mad Walking is a beautifully realized penetrating meditation on the impossibility of truly thinking

The Voice Imitator Thomas Bernhard, 2018-07-01 The Austrian playwright novelist and poet Thomas Bernhard 1931-89 is acknowledged as among the major writers of our times At once pessimistic and exhilarating Bernhard's work depicts the corruption of the modern world the dynamics of totalitarianism and the interplay of reality and appearance In this stunning translation of The Voice Imitator Bernhard gives us one of his most darkly comic works A series of parable like anecdotes some drawn from newspaper reports some from conversation some from hearsay this satire is both subtle and acerbic What initially appear to be quaint little stories inevitably indict the sterility and callousness of modern life not just in urban centers but everywhere Bernhard presents an ordinary world careening into absurdity and disaster Politicians professionals tourists civil servants the usual victims of Bernhard's inspired misanthropy succumb one after another to madness mishap or suicide The shortest piece titled Mail illustrates the anonymity and alienation that have become standard in contemporary society For years after our mother's death the Post Office still delivered letters that were addressed to her The Post Office had taken no notice of her death In his disarming sometimes hilarious style Bernhard delivers a lethal punch with every anecdote George Steiner has connected Bernhard to the great constellation of Kafka Musil and Broch and John Updike has compared him to Grass Handke and Weiss The Voice Imitator reminds us that Thomas Bernhard remains the most caustic satirist of our age

Encyclopedia of Literary Translation Into English: A-L O. Classe, 2000 The Performance Studies Reader Henry Bial, 2004 The Performance Studies Reader is a lively and much needed anthology of critical writings on the burgeoning discipline of performance studies It provides an overview of the full range of performance theory for undergraduates at all levels and beginning graduate students in performance studies theatre performing arts and cultural studies The collection is designed as a companion to Richard Schechner's popular Performance Studies an Introduction Routledge 2002 but is also ideal as a stand alone text Henry Bial collects together key critical pieces from the field referred to as suggested readings in Performance Studies an Introduction He also broadens the discussion with additional selections

The structure and themes of the Reader closely follow those of Schechner's companion textbook. The articles in each section focus particularly on three primary areas in performance studies: theatre anthropology and sociology, cultural studies,

Genus Envy, Imperative of Narration Catharina Wulf, 2014-10-01. This is the first book to deal with the self-reflexive nature of narration of Beckett and Bernhard. Samuel Beckett's and Thomas Bernhard's works are representative of a persisting perplexity with regard to language. The texts of both authors are marked by their narrator's obsessive need to write which is inextricably intertwined with their profound suspicion of language. The perpetuation of the narration is explained as an imperative, a simultaneously conscious and unconscious command which forces the artist to submit to the creative process. The author places this inexplicable force of the imperative within the context of Arthur Schopenhauer's aesthetic theory and Jacques Lacan's concept of desire. The attempt to define and interpret the two authors' prose and drama is displaced by this sense of the infinity of desire. Lacan and by the eternal becoming of the will Schopenhauer which reveal themselves to lie at the heart of Beckett's and Bernhard's creativity. Memory-Theater and Postmodern Drama

Jeanette R. Malkin, 2025-10-01. Provides a new way of defining and understanding postmodern drama. A Pathognomy of Performance

S. Bayly, 2011-02-08. Exploring the themes of the event, ephemerality and democracy that mark the encounter between performance and philosophy, this original study elaborates fresh perspectives on the experiences of undoing fiasco and disaster that shadow both the stage and everyday life. Intertextual Loops in Modern Drama

Christine Olga Kiebuszinska, 2001. Kiebuszinska, who teaches modern drama, comparative literature and film at Virginia Tech, considers intertextuality in modern drama. In nine essays she examines the connections between the works of modern playwrights such as Kundera, Jelinek and Hampton and the texts of earlier writers such as Diderot. Steps to an Ecology of Mind

Gregory Bateson, 2000. Gregory Bateson was a philosopher, anthropologist, photographer, naturalist and poet as well as the husband and collaborator of Margaret Mead. This classic anthology of his major work includes a new Foreword by his daughter Mary Katherine Bateson. 5 line drawings. Understanding Thomas Bernhard

Stephen D. Dowden, 1991. Semiotics Robert E. Innis, 1985-06-22. fifteen texts which are essential reading for anyone interested in semiotics. This collection will surely become a standard text for those who teach semiotics, aesthetics or philosophy of language.

International Philosophical Quarterly. This volume presents the classic statements in semiotics and touches on a vast set of problems and themes: philosophical, aesthetic, literary, cultural, biological and anthropological. Between Theater and Anthropology

Richard Schechner, 2010-08-03. In performances by Euro-Americans, Afro-Americans, Native Americans and Asians, Richard Schechner has examined carefully the details of performative behavior and has developed models of the performance process useful not only to persons in the arts but to anthropologists, play theorists and others fascinated but perhaps terrified by the multichannel realities of the postmodern world. Schechner argues that in failing to see the structure of the whole theatrical process, anthropologists in particular have neglected close analogies between performance behavior and ritual. The way performances are created in training workshops and rehearsals is the key paradigm for social process
